SC paves way for Teltumbde's release

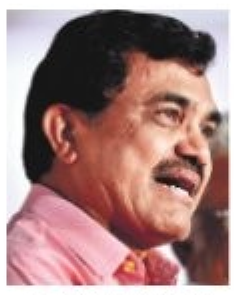
Rejects NIA plea against bail granted by Bombay High Court last week in Elgar Parishad case

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday dismissed a special leave petition filed by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) challenging the bail granted to Elgar Parishad case accused Anand Teltumbde by the Bombay High Court last week, paving the way for his release from Taloja jail.

A bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice Hima Kohli, however, clarified that the trial against the accused would go on without being influenced by the HC's observations in its November 18 bail order.

Teltumbde has been in Taloja Central Prison since 2020 for his alleged role in an Elgar Parishad event held in Pune on December 31, 2017. Violence erupted in Bhima Koregaon a day later, as speakers and other performers at the event allegedly made provocative speeches. He is facing charges under the stringent Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA).



Anand Teltumbde

Appearing for the NIA, Additional Solicitor General Aishwarya Bhati argued that Teltumbde was actively involved in propagating the ideology of the banned CPI (Maoist) outfit. "Look at the larger canvas at which CPI (Maoist) works. If it's proscribed terrorist organisation, then even assistance or affiliation is an offence. But he's actively involved in propagation of ideology, organising, fund transfer etc," she added.

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for Teltumbde, argued that the documents produced by the NIA to justify his arrest were not recovered from him. Also, emails purportedly sent by him were actually recovered from the laptop of co-accused Rona Wilson, he pointed out.

"Threshold under the UAPA Act is very high. He wrote about impact of neo-liberal globalisation on Dalits. Wherever there is a Dalit issue, he is there. In the process there is some organisation which is closely related to some other organisation. If I am an academic and I give speech then that doesn't make me a terrorist," Sibal argued. He also said Teltumbde did not even attend the Elgar Parishad event.

UP shocker as teacher drills into boy's palm

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN a shocking incident, an instructor at a school in Uttar Pradesh ran a power drilling machine on the palm of a Class 5 student for failing to recite mathematical tables. The boy's left palm was cut but the presence of mind of another student saved him from deeper injury. The heinous crime took place at Basic Primary Model School in Prem Nagar area of Kanpur on Thursday.

Narrating the incident, the student, Vivan, said the instructor asked him to recite the table of 2 but he could not. "Anuj sir got infuriated and ran the drilling machine on my left hand. My friend Krishna, who was with me, pulled the plug but by then my hand had been cut," said Vivan.

According to local sources, the horrific incident happened when Vivan, 9, was passing through the library of the school, where instructor Anuj Pandey was overseeing some repairs.

Will bring in Uniform Civil Code in state: CM

RAMACHANDRA V GUNARI
@ Shivamogga

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Friday that the state government is seriously thinking of implementing a Uniform Civil Code (UCC) in the state and thereby ensure equality in the society. Speaking at the inaugural function of the state BJP's Prashiksha Varga here, Bommai said UCC is a common law which should be applicable to every citizen of the society. "The government does not hesitate to bring in this law in the state", he asserted.

The Constitution of India lists the UCC among the Directive Principles of State Policy, which makes it a desirable objective, but it is not justiciable. Over the decades, the BJP in particular has pushed for a UCC, and the Supreme Court has on a few occasions expressed itself in favour of it.

It may be recalled here that in May 2022, the Uttarakhand government announced a committee led by retired Supreme Court judge Justice Ranjana Desai to implement a UCC. On October 29, 2022, Gujarat Home Minister Harsh Sanghavi announced that the government is planning to implement UCC and a committee will be formed in this regard. Assam and Himachal Pradesh too have expressed a similar intent to implement UCC. P4

ECI to BBMP: Ensure foolproof voters list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Election Commission of India (ECI) has placed two senior officers under suspension and ordered foolproof revision of the voters list. The move comes in the wake of alleged impersonation by an NGO which allegedly tampered with voters data in Shivajinagar, Chikpete and Mahadevpura assembly segments.

The suspended officials are S. Rangappa, Additional District Election Officer (ADEO), BBMP, Central Lok Sabha in charge of Shivajinagar and Chickpete constituencies, and K. Srinivas, ADEO cum-Deputy Commissioner, Bengaluru Urban, in charge of Mahadevapura constituency. A departmental inquiry has also been ordered against them.

The ECI said that the Chief Secretary, CEO, Karnataka, and the BBMP, should ensure that the period of claims and objections under Special Summary Revision (SSR) should be extended by 15 days.

Uneven soil in B'luru slows down Metro TBM work

The spot on Tannery Road where a sinkhole occurred | EXPRESS

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

BANGALORE Metro Rail Corporation Limited's (BMRCL) Tunnel Boring Machine (TBM) 'Bhadra' is facing a peculiar problem, and it is considerably slowing down its pace of work.

The varied nature of soil that caused two sinkholes in its 1,200-metre tunnelling stretch between Venkateshpura and Shaadi Mahal, and concerns about the safety of a statue of Dr B R Ambedkar that could have got damaged because of vibrations or possible cave-ins, have slowed down TBM Bhadra's progress in the phase-2 Namma Metro works.

Last month, TBM Bhadra's operations led to a second sinkhole on Tannery Road. Not many knew about it as it was within a barricaded portion on Tannery Road.

This is the second time Bhadra is facing a sinkhole issue.

COLD, HUNGRY, ANGRY, THEY QUEUE UP TO GET THEIR DEPOSITS BACK

Depositors of Kanva Credit Ltd wait on depot platforms, have no restrooms, basic facilities

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

AFTER a heartbreaking financial loss, it is a frustrating wait for thousands of depositors of Sree Kanva Souhadra Cooperative Credit Limited at the BMTC complex in Shanti Nagar. As they brave the biting morning cold and rain, and sleep on platforms of the bus depot after arriving from towns and villages across Karnataka, they hold on to a slim hope that they will get back at least some of their hard-earned money.

Right from 3am, they join the line, fearful of leaving their spot in the serpentine queue. They form part of the 22,000 victims of the nearly Rs 650-crore scam perpetrated by the Bengauru-headquartered company, which has 45 branches across Karnataka.

The revenue department has put its 80 staffers on duty to manage the issue here and at the other centre at Sir M Visvesvaraiah Towers.

A spot visit revealed many senior citizens, physically challenged people and pregnant women waiting in two queues – one on the ground floor to collect a token given only between 9.30am and 10.30am, and another one to collect an application form on the second floor, which is open throughout the day. With no toilets near the passageway where they queue up, they are forced to plead to use restrooms at offices here to relieve themselves.

The depositors were angry and emotional. "I agree I'm an educated fool. The desire to double my money got the better of me," said an individual from Chitradurga, requesting anonymity. Their deposits range from Rs 33,000 to Rs 6.75 crore, with many having pumped money into separate deposits of multiple family members since 2005. They had a few documents as proof of their deposits. The revenue department's initiative began on November 2 and will end on December 1.

Depositors wait to fill up claim forms at the BMTC complex in Shanti Nagar | EXPRESS

V Gopalakrishnan Reddy, general secretary of Sree Kanva Souhadra Depositors' Welfare Association, told TNIE, "People have invested in fixed deposits and recurring deposits with very high interest rates, and Suvarna Nidhi (which promised doubling of money every 66 months). Since September 2019, when the public learnt they had been duped, nearly 200 senior citizens have passed away, fighting to get their money back. I have also lost lakhs of rupees. I formed this association so that we all stick together and fight for our money. We have 2,000 members right now."

Reddy, who has retired, comes here daily to guide those waiting in the queue. "The whole thing should have been done online. An individual has 15 bonds of family members, and many documents are beng demanded for each deposit, forcing people to spend a lot on photocopies alone," Reddy said.

A government office staffer here was furious. "There has been a complete invasion of our premises since a few weeks. The lifts are always full and everyone wants to use our toilets. The revenue department should have organised this in a choultry or big government office," she said.

Those accused of cheating depositors can't seek bail

Bengaluru: Those accused of cheating depositors cannot file a petition for anticipatory or regular bail, but can file an appeal under Section 16 of the Karnataka Protection of Interest of Depositors in Financial Establishments (KPIDFE) Act, the Karnataka HC said. "The petition under Section 438 or 439 of CrPC is not maintainable when offences under KPIDFE Act are incorporated, and the only remedy available is to file an appeal under Section 16 of the KPIDFE Act. Accordingly, the petitions are dismissed," said Justice Rajendra Badamikar. The court passed the order while dismissing the petition filed by Shreesha Sasithota Prabhakaran, seeking bail in a case registered by Shankarapura Police Station in Bengaluru, under the provisions of IPC, KPIDFE Act and Un-Regulated Deposit Schemes Act. The complainant and her family members invested ₹17.50 crore on purchase of shares through Sunness Capital India Pvt Ltd, in which the accused Prabhakaran is also the director. After investing, Sunness Pvt Ltd neither issued any shares nor repaid the money. It was also alleged that the petitioner and other accused diverted funds for personal use. Hence, the petitioner was arrested. The petitioner first approached sessions court for bail, which was rejected, after which he approached the high court for bail.

PROTESTERS SLAM IRAN GOVT, HAIL WOMEN

Bengaluru district committee of the Socialist Unity Centre of India (Communist), SUCI-C, on Friday held a protest at Freedom Park to express its solidarity with the ongoing heroic struggle of women and democratic-minded people against the fascist ruling class of Iran. SUCI-C secretary MN Sriram said the current phase of the movement was ignited due to the alleged brutal killing of a young woman, Mahsa Amini, by the religious moral police for improperly wearing her hijab. "The fundamentalist government of Iran is enforcing the compulsory wearing of the hijab and other reactionary practices to enslave women. More than 400 people have been killed, including 50 children, and more than 17,000 people have been arrested," he said, appealing to all democratic-minded people to come forward and express solidarity with the women of Iran.

PROTESTERS SING, RECITE POEMS AT TOWN HALL

Naveddu Nilladiddare, Karnataka along with various human rights and women rights groups organised a protest at Town Hall to mark UN Day for the 'Elimination of Violence against Women' on Friday. Vimala KS, Karnataka state vice-president of All India Democratic Women's Association, led the protest where more a hundred people participated. The participants sang songs and recited poems on women as part of the protest. Addressing the gathering, Vimala said, "The government has a great role to play to ensure women are safe. Cases like Shraddha Walkar and release of the Bilkis Bano culprits should not happen. Even individuals have an important role to play. Tomorrow is World Constitution Day, and we want that the government should not just read or speak of the Preamble and the Constitution but also follow it," she said.

TBM work: Statue safety, sinkhole worry BMRCL

IT started its underground tunnelling on June 17, 2021 on the Venkateshpura-Shaadi Mahal stretch. Three months later, the ground caved in near Venkateshpura Metro station, just 110m from the starting point.

A senior BMRCL official said, "The soil here is varied in nature. It is loose on top and hard below. A sinkhole cropped up last month measuring 3m in diameter. Totally, 45 cubic metres of concrete was poured from above to fill it up before the machine could proceed."

The other matter topmost on the BMRCL's mind is extreme caution not to disturb an overground statue of Dr BR Ambedkar. The TBM Bhadra tunnelling works last week happened just 50 m below a statue of Dr B R Ambedkar on Tannery Road. "We had to create concrete grouting below it to ensure it did not get impacted in any way," the official added.

BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez confirmed to TNIE that TBM Bhadra was tunnelling at a very slow pace due to problems posed by the uneven nature of the soil enroute. Because of the varied nature of the soil on the stretch, last month, TBM Bhadra tunnelled just five rings (7 m), while in November it has bored 20 rings (28 m) till date. "The TBM can average 10 rings or 14m in a single day in normal ground conditions," explained a BMRCL official.

The TBM has also suffered much wear and tear due to the terrain. "We had to do three stoppage for repairs as a total of 40 cutter discs on the Cutter Head were damaged while tunnelling," he said.

State should rank first globally, says minister

Higher Education Minister Ashwath Narayan said that the state ranks first in several sectors in the country, and must work towards becoming first globally. Speaking at the 12th conference on Asian Society for Innovation and Policy on Friday, he said, "Our aim is to occupy the number one spot at global level in the coming days."

STRICT CHECKING

Post M'luru blast, RWAs on alert

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the bomb blast in Mangaluru, the residents' welfare associations in Bengaluru are adopting stringent safety measures like intensifying background verification of the locals, especially tenants. A few RWAs and house owners have said they will also hold regular meetings with the police, and alert them about any suspicious activities in their area.

S Murali, president of Bengaluru Eshanaya Mahavedike, said, "Even if crimes are sporadic, we should remain vigilant, and interact with the police," he said.

Recalling a recent incident when a person came searching for a house on rent, and was willing to pay a high amount, the Mahadevapura RWA general secretary, Kavitha Raghuram said that she refused to rent out her house as she grew suspicious. "After I agreed to rent out my house, I began collecting photocopies of my tenants' Aadhaar card, photos and work addresses. These details are kept in a book as precaution," Y Gafoor, a senior citizen, said.

To bolster safety, Vidya Goggi from Bengaluru Apartment Federation pitched for a system which exists in Mumbai where a tenant registration and police NOCs are given. "Some owners may be hesitant to share information or collect it from tenants. But if it becomes a rule, a lot of confusion can be avoided and illegal activities curbed," she said.

Terming the role of apartment associations and owners as significant, Joint Commissioner of Police (Crime) Sharanappa said, "It is a collective responsibility. Over the last few years, this system is in place and owners have been advised to carry out background verification of their tenants. In case of of suspicious activities, even if the owners are hesitant initially, they will have to inform the police later."

Error-free forms: Help centres at PU colleges

ENS @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING immense delays in the Common Entrance Test (CET) process, School Education Minister BC Nagesh and Higher Education Minister Ashwath Narayan, during a joint press conference, announced that help centres would be set up in PU colleges.

"A lot students are wrongly entering the RD number, father's name, caste name, etc, in the CET applications. They are given seven or eight opportunities to correct the details, which further delays the rest of the process," Ashwath Narayan said.

Each PU college which offers a science curriculum will see a help centre, the ministers said, adding that the students will be trained through video-conference. Ashwath Narayan said that the KEA will start training coordinators. A male and a female lecturer for every 100 students at the respective colleges will be present.

Meanwhile, Nagesh said that the merging of the Student Achievement Tracking System (SATS) at the SSLC level with KEA is also under consideration. "We are considering merging student-related information that are already available on the existing SAT system, so that these are automatically filled when the student fills out CET applications," he said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

26th November: To finish the week with a look at Venus, planet of romance and relationships, I suspect this is a good moment to relax the emotional pressure. And that goes for all of us! It's not a bad moment to explore personal motivations. After all, if we know what we want, we're more likely to get it!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A word about your physical well-being: you seem to be in danger of pushing yourself hard and wearing yourself out. You are particularly susceptible to excess and indulgence, which includes fanatical dieting. Remember the golden rule - all things in moderation.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Your romantic stars are strong, and you are inclined to group a number of feelings under the general heading of 'being in love', but you may not be right. You have other desires which must now be met, such as the need for material security and emotional certainty.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Circumstances beyond your control now require improvements at home. The pressure to move to somewhere more spacious or luxurious will soon be intense, much of it coming from your personal irritation with close partners. However, if you take the necessary decisions then other people's opinions and actions will cease bothering you.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The legacy of the past, perhaps only of recent days, may be keeping you busy. The warning not to overdo it stands, but nobody can question the amount you have on your plate. Perhaps assistance will be more readily forthcoming when you mix with new people rather than the same old faces.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
As the hours pass, your planetary picture begins to look increasingly mature and responsible, and less concerned with 'having fun'. That's why your entertainment requirements may therefore veer towards the highbrow or cultural, and an expensive evening out could be a fine idea.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
If you are to seize the moment, you must be in the right place at the right time. Your biggest asset at the moment is enthusiasm, the greatest failing is complacency. Deal with children and younger people in a firm but fair manner, offering them appropriate encouragement whenever you can.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Not a single emotional compromise or concession should be made until family members have been consulted, and that might not be possible until another few days have passed. You can begin to consider the potential of a possible new financial venture, consulting the experts whenever necessary.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Venus, planet of love and of victory in war, is now forming a fresh alignment with your sign, giving you the edge in all personal considerations. Save some time for serious discussions over long-term family matters, as people you live with need to hear your opinions.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The whole situation is looking considerably more certain than even a short while ago. At least now you should have the confidence to move ahead, perhaps because the financial situation will soon be more secure, but also because someone who was critical will soon soften their tone.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Hidden truths are about to be revealed. A mystery will soon be solved, a lost item found, and a rumour proved false. You may also soon realise just how a dream may be put into practice, although precise plans may have to be left until later.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus, planet of love, now shifts the emotional goal posts. It looks as if you will be making more demands on people, perhaps because you are ambitious on their behalf, perhaps because you wish them to live your life for you. Don't be surprised if they don't see eye-to-eye.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is much to be said for giving other people a wide berth, particularly authority figures, or worse, people who imagine they are in authority. Your social stars pick up when the Moon adjusts its position, and you may even be on course for an unexpected invitation.

TECHIE LOSES SPORTS BICYCLE AFTER RIDE ON NANDI HILLS

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

IT professional Pradeep Manthana (41), a cycling enthusiast who came all the way from Hyderabad to cycle on the Nandi Hills road for the first time, lost his brand new bicycle to some nifty thieves. He had come with his son and other family members, and brought along his Trek Domane SL5 sports bicycle worth Rs 2.71 lakh. The cycle was securely mounted on the car cycle rack, but all Manthana is left with now are unpleasant memories.

Speaking to TNIE from Hyderabad, Manthana said he and his son had cycled on Nandi Hills road last week. "We loved the place, so we decided to cycle again during the weekend. When we were going towards the hills in the car, we saw a cycle race going on. I parked the car near Hot Pot Hotel at Rani Circle in Devanahalli, leaving the cycle in the rack. The bicycle was properly locked and tied to the rack. After watching the race, my son and I returned to the car in a span of five minutes and the cycle was gone," he said. Unaware of the local police station, he surfed the net for details and reached the jurisdictional Devanahalli police station to file a complaint. "The theft happened between 9.45am and 9.50am last Saturday, though the complaint was filed later," said Manthana, who has been cycling for the past four years to stay healthy.

"We are not ruling out the possibility of some locals behind the theft. We are checking CCTV footage in the vicinity. He has provided documents to claim ownership of the bicycle. The accused have not only broken the locks but also cut the rope in the rack to steal the cycle," said an officer who is part of the investigation. Devanahalli police registered a case of theft under Section 379 of IPC.

19 two-wheelers stolen on pretext of test ride recovered, two youth arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TWO habitual offenders, who were targeting vehicle owners wanting to sell their two-wheelers by posting advertisements online, have been arrested by the North East division police.

The accused would approach the owners and were escaping with the vehicles under the pretext of a test ride. Nearly Rs 15 lakh worth stolen two-wheelers have been recovered from the duo.

The accused are identified as Yasin Baig, 22, and Imran Khan, 24, both residents of DJ Halli. The accused were also stealing app-based two-wheelers by not returning them. The accused have stolen two wheelers in Yelahanka, Banaswadi, Yeshwanthapur, Mahadevapura, Kothanur, Indiranagar, Govindapura, VV Puram, HSR Layout, and Doddaballapura rural police station limits. The police have recovered 19 two-wheelers from the duo.

The accused have been remanded in judicial custody.

Vokkaligara Sangha official promises medical seat, cons contractor of ₹35L

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AN office-bearer of Rajya Vokkaligara Sangha has been accused of cheating a contractor of Rs 35 lakh by promising a medical seat at the Kempegowda Institute of Medical Sciences. In a complaint lodged with the High Grounds police, Shrinivas KR, a resident of Hanunantha Nagar, stated that the son of a relative could not secure a medical seat through NEET. Hence, he approached Manjegowda MB, an office-bearer of the sangha, with whom he had an acquaintance. Manjegowda said he was close to the president of the sangha and he would help get a medical seat. He allegedly demanded Rs 35 lakh. The complainant stated he gave the money to Manjegowda and his wife at a star hotel in Vasanth Nagar on March 7.

"He had asked me to come to the president's chamber three days later. When I went there, Manjegowda asked me to come after a week. However, I got to know that the admission process was over and tried to contact Manjegowda but he was unavailable. Hence, I went to his residence in Mysuru where Manjegowda, his wife Meena, and one of his friends hurled filthy abuses and threatened me," the complainant stated. The police have booked Manjegowda, Meena and others for cheating, criminal intimidation and other charges. "We have summoned Manjegowda to appear for enquiry," the police said.

Temple priest sustains burns while preparing prasada, dies

BENGALURU: A 61-year-old priest at Sri Varasiddhi Vinayaka Temple in Jayanagar 4th Block died of burn injuries after he was injured in a fire mishap while preparing prasada.The victim has been identified as Nagarajaiah C, who worked as a priest at the Vinayaka temple for 35 years. The police said Nagarajaiah went to the temple at 6 am on November 18 and turned on the gas stove to prepare prasada but he didn't find a match stick or lighter. Without turning off the stove, he went in search of a matchbox and found one. As he lit a stick, fire engulfed the room and he sustained serious burn injuries. "Hearing his screams, a cleaning staff rushed to his rescue and put off the fire. Nagarajaiah was taken to a hospital in Koramangala, where he succumbed on Wednesday. "An unnatural death case is registered in this connection," the Jayanagar police said. ENS

Four of family injured as car rams parked truck

BENGALURU: A family of four escaped with injuries after their speeding car collided with a parked container truck on Tumakuru Road, near Nelamangala, on Thursday night. The truck driver fled the scene, and Nelamangala traffic police are on the lookout for him. Police have seized the vehicles. The injured are Mahesh, Hemanth and two family members, residents of Nelamangala. They are recovering at a private hospital, though Hemanth's condition is said to be critical. Police said the accident occurred around 11.30 pm, when Mahesh and his relatives was heading to Machanayakanahalli to meet their grandfather, who was hospitalised. Mahesh was driving and did not notice the truck which was parked by the roadside without its parking lights on. The car was completely damaged due to the impact. Passersby rushed the injured to a hospital. ENS

Rowdy wanted for murder shot in leg

ENS @Bengaluru

A rowdy sheeter in KP Agrahara police station has been shot in his leg by the Madanayakanahalli police in the outskirts of the city. The accused was wanted in a murder case. When the police had gone to arrest him, the accused attacked the policemen in a bid to escape. In self defense, the police shot in his left leg after warning him to surrender.

The rowdy sheeter has been identified as Raja Rajan alias Setu. He is also a rowdy sheeter in Chamarajpet police station.

On November 14, the accused and his associates had murdered another rowdy sheeter identified as Nataraj alias Mullu near Machohalli in Dasanapura. The gang had then escaped towards Pune. One police team had gone in search of the accused to the neighbouring state and had returned empty handed as the gang had escaped from there. The police managed to arrest three accused including Rajan and his associate Kumar in the city on Wednesday.

"In the wee hours of Friday, the police team had taken Rajan to recover the weapons used for the murder. When the accused was near the Navile Layout near the NICE junction, the accused attacked the police with the same weapon during one police constable H Namdar was inured. Old rivalry is the reason behind Nataraj's murder," said an office on part of investigations.

The Madanayakanahalli police have registered a case.

BOMMAI CONDEMNS VANDALISM OF K'TAKA BUSES IN MAHARASHTRA

Marathi slogans painted on NWKRTC buses; Kannada activists retaliate, paint Maha buses

A NWKRTC bus vandalised in Aurangabad district of Maharashtra on Friday

WITH tension escalating on the border following a spat between the Karnataka and Maharashtra governments over the issue of boundary dispute for the past few days, activists on both sides resorted to vandalising their respective road transport corporation buses on Friday.

A group of pro-Maharashtra activists from Aurangabad, Maharashtra, have allegedly written Marathi slogans on Karnataka government buses. Soon after the photos of activists halting Karnataka buses and writing slogans went viral on social media, the authorities in Maharashtra immediately suspended the movement of at least 300 buses from various parts of Maharashtra to Belagavi region in Karnataka, said sources.

Responding to the development in Maharashtra, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai urged the Maharashtra government to take immediate action against those involved as such acts divide the states.

Meanwhile, a decision has been taken to stop bus services to Belagavi from Maharashtra to avoid local activists painting the Maharashtra buses with black colour, sources said. A large number of buses from various parts of Belagavi, including Chikkodi, Nippani, Raibag, and Athani, ply regularly to Maharashtra.

In retaliation, activists of Karnataka Nava Nirmana Sene painted black paint on some of the buses belonging to Maharashtra at Ballurgi village of Afzalpur taluk in Kalaburgi district, sources said.

They also pasted posters on the buses claiming that Akkalkot and Jatta belonged to Karnataka. They sat on the Maharashtra bus carrying the Kannada flag. After a few minutes, they allowed the bus to proceed towards its destination. The government buses of Maharashtra were coming to Afzalpur from Akkalkot in Maharashtra.

Meanwhil, the chief minister said the case is in court and Karnataka is fully prepared to fight the legal battle. Speaking to reporters in Bengaluru, Bommai said that the Maharashtra government must initiate urgent steps to protect peace and tranquillity between the two states.

Bommai said the legal battle is their priority and they have to wait for the verdict as the case is pending before the Supreme Court. The chief minister has convened an all-party meeting next week to discuss the border row.

Justice Patil to head border, river protection authority

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE State government on Friday appointed former Supreme Court judge Justice Shivaraj V Patil as chairman of the Karnataka River Water and Border Protection Authority. The post was vacant after the death of retired High Court judge Justice KL Manjunath in January this year.

The government order on the appointment was issued on Friday, ahead of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's meeting with leaders of all political parties to discuss the border row. The Congress had demanded that the government appoint a new chairman and also reconstitute the Authority after Maharashtra again raked up the border dispute.

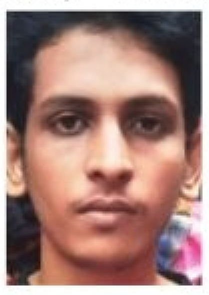
M'luru blast: Centre directs NIA to take up investigation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has directed the National Investigation Agency (NIA) to take up the investigation in the Mangaluru blast case. It has stated that the FIR (119/2022) registered by the Kankanady Town police station, Mangaluru City on November 20 has invoked Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), 1967, which is a scheduled offence and falls under the NIA Act. The MHA order dated November 23 precedes the letter written by the Karnataka government to the ministry on the same issue a day later.



The State Government on Thursday wrote to the Centre asking it to hand over the November 19 Mangaluru blast case to the NIA after the provisions of the UAPA were invoked.

The NIA, which has jointly been investigating the case with the state police will now register a fresh FIR before taking up the probe.

Prime accused Mohd Shariq, who was carrying a 5-litre pressure cooker with three 9-volt batteries, one damaged circuit and other material used in the preparation of IEDs in an auto rickshaw was injured along with the auto driver Purushottam Poojary following a blast.

"Based on the investigation in the case including the examination of materials recovered and evidence collected so far by the police, Sections 16, 38 and 39 of the UA(P)A (on punishment for committing a terrorist act, being a member of a terrorist organisation and intention to further the activity of a terrorist organisation,) have been invoked. And since, (UA(P)A) was a scheduled offence and falls under Section 6 of the NIA Act, the matter has been submitted to the MHA for necessary and further action," the state had written.

The Mangaluru blast case was registered under Explosive Substances Act and Sections 419, 465, 471, 120(B) and 307 of the Indian Penal Code for punishment for cheating by personation, forgery, fraudulently and dishonestly using a forged document or electronic record as genuine and attempt to murder along with sections of the UA(P)A.

Shariq was trained by ISIS: Shobha

BENGALURU: Union Minister of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare and Udupi-Chikkamagaluru MP Shobha Karandlaje said that Mohammed Shariq, the prime suspect in the recent Mangaluru blast, came out on bail in the anti-India grafitti case as intense investigation did not take place. She said Shariq had undergone training from ISIS and was seeking to unleash terror, targeting Kadri Manjunath temple and other temples and leaders in these areas. She said Shariq was trained by ISIS and had himself trained other youths. She urged the local police to cooperate with the National Investigation Agency. She said the NIA has been active in Mangaluru for the last three months.

VHP plans poster campaign

MANGALURU: The Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) on Friday said that terror sleeper cells have become active in the coastal region of the state and have started "targeting Hindus and their religious centres". "VHP will raise awareness among people through Bajrang Dal and Durga Vahini by organising poster campaigns at major junctions in the city on November 28," Shivanand Mendon of VHP told reporters here.

Govt will not tolerate anti-social elements: Min

MANGALURU: Dakshina Kannada district iminister V Sunil Kumar on Friday alleged that after the ban on the Popular Front of India, anti-social elements have become active again and are trying to create a sense of fear in the minds of people. He was speaking to reporters after visiting the recent Mangaluru blast site at Naguri. "By handing over the case to the National Investigation Agency, we will find out who is behind the attack. It is clear now that anti-social elements are creating fear among people. The Mangaluru blast is proof for it. The Union and State governments will not tolerate this and take action against anti-social elements," he said. He said the recent "murders of Hindu activists in Karnataka have become a cause for concern."

Long list of aspirants a challenge to Cong brass

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THE decision of the Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) to invite applications from ticket aspirants has set the tone for intense lobbying in the party. The aspirants have paid Rs 5,000 as application fee, besides Rs 2 lakh for general constituencies and Rs 1 lakh for SC/ST reserved seats. This will pose a challenge to the party top brass as it could encourage rebellion and dissent within the party.

There are 69 sitting Congress MLAs in 224 assembly constituencies, 16 ministers who tasted defeat in the 2018 polls and three former MPs who are aspiring to get tickets for the assembly elections to be held in 2023. In veteran BJP leader B S Yeddyurappa's Shikaripura constituency, there are 15 aspirants who are hopeful of getting a Congress ticket while in Terdal, which was represented by actress and former minister Umashree, there are 15 aspirants. While the Mahadevapura Reserve constituency has 14 aspirants in Bengaluru city, there are 12 hopefuls for Shivamogga Rural constituency.

The KPCC Women's Wing president Pushpa Amarnath has also thrown her hat into the ring in Mahadevapura and Sakaleshpur constituencies. There are 11 aspirants for Mandya seat and nine in Mulbagal constituency. These aspirants have their own loyalists inside the party and many feel that their supporters will not work actively in the elections if denied tickets. There are reports that some aspiring candidates have already started panchayat-wise tours and are organising booth-level meetings assuming that they will get the ticket.

There is need for the Congress top leaders to hold constituency-wise meetings across the board to address the possible disappointment among aspirants.

A senior party leader, who did not wished to be named, said that the party is now hit by factionalism in a few constituencies and districts and top leaders in the party cannot afford to face wrath of grassroot-level workers or leaders.

One aspirant, one ticket: DKS

KPCC president DK Shivakumar on Friday sent out a clear message that every aspirant will be be allotted only one ticket in the 2023 Assembly polls. "There will be one ticket, no matter who the aspirant is", he told reporters. In 2018, CLP leader Siddaramaiah, the then CM, had chosen to contest from Chamundeshwari and Badami, while his son contested from Varuna Shivakumar's statement is being seen in the context of Siddaramaiah trying to contest from two seats in 2023 as well. On raising funds through ticket aspirants, Shivakumar said it is not a new thing as there used to be fund-raising initiatives in the past too.

Ex-MLA Bidarur dies of cardiac arrest at Congress event venue

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

FORMER MLA Shrishailappa Bidarur died of a cardiac arrest at a resort at Varthur near here on Friday. Bidarur fell ill at a Congress event where an interaction of party aspirants with top leaders was scheduled to be held. As the meeting started, Bidarur collapsed in the hall at the venue and vomited. Congress leaders rushed to him and Dr Vanitha tried CPR on the leader, but in vain. He was shifted to a hospital in Bengaluru in party MP DK Suresh's car, but was declared brought dead.

"Senior leader Bidarur had a cardiac arrest and unfortunately he could not recover. After having deliberations with the AICC general secretary and KPCC working presidents, we have decided to postpone the meeting", said KPCC chief DK Shivakumar.

The meeting will now be held on Sunday through a virtual platform.

"My homage to former MLA Shrishailappa Bidarur who died after a massive heart attack today and heartfelt condolences to the family members, friends and all the supporters", AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala tweeted.

Bidarur had won the Rona Assembly seat in 1998 and from Gadag in 2008 as a BJP candidate and was a loyalist of former chief minister B S Yediyurappa. He joined the Congress party in 2019 and was expected to be the Congress party's nominee from Rona assembly constituency in the 2023 assembly polls.

Most of the 1,350 aspirants from 224 assembly constituencies from across the state, who had already applied for tickets, had gathered at the venue. According to sources, some senior party leaders were upset about the applications being called from aspirants as it resulted in stiff competition with even some non-Congress people applying for tickets. "This may lead to confusion in some Assembly constituencies.

Many aspirants will turn a thorn in the flesh of official candidates and may even demand funds to withdraw themselves from the contest", a leader observed.

K'taka gets ₹1.915 cr GST compensation

BENGALURU: Karnataka has received GST compensation of Rs 1,915 crore from the Central government, which is the second highest among states in the country. Maharashtra received the highest amount of Rs 2081 crore, Delhi received Rs 1200 crore, Tamil Nadu Rs 1188 crore, Andhra Pradesh Rs 682 crore and Telangana received Rs 542 crore. The amount was released by the Central government on Thursday towards GST compensation for the period April-June 2022. "This payment is in spite of the fact that total cess till last month was Rs 72,147 crore. The balance of Rs 43,515 crore is being released by the Centre from its own resources. With this, the Centre has released in advance the entire amount of cess estimated to be collected till March-end, available for payment of compensation to states," official sources said. ENS

Panchamsalis to protest at winter session

BENGALURU: Panchamsalis, upset with the government over the reservation issue, have threatened to launch an aggressive agitation during the winter session in Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi. On December 19, thousands of Panchamsalis are expected to gather in protest against the government's indifference. Koodalasangama seer Basava Jaya Mrutyunjaya told The New Indian Express that the government has not kept its word on reservation. "We have asked for the findings of the Backward Classes commission. If they do not give it to us by Deceember 19, we will agitate till the end of the session," he said. He said he had communicated the matter to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai during the meeting of community leaders. The Panchamsalis have been holding preparatory meetings in districts and taluks across the state. On Saturday, they are holding a meeting in Raichur. ENS

Cong is only after power, says Bommai

NOW, on Friday, November 25, 2022, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai asserted that the BJP government is considering implementation of a UCC in the state.

Training his guns on the Congress, Bommai said, "Congress is only after power. Never have they made any effort to provide equality to all. People know how they treated the Father of Constitution, Dr B R Ambedkar after the constitution was drafted. Ambedkar was denied a party ticket to contest elections and was also denied a piece of land to bury his body. The Congress kept the SCs, STs and the poor as slaves. Now, their mask is off".

Bommai added that the BJP is committed to its ideology and never compromises on implementing its agenda. He said the government implemented the Cow Slaughter Act to preserve cattle. The government also implemented Punyakoti Dattu Yojane (Cow Adoption Programme) and set up 100 'Goshala' across the state, besides extending monetary support for protection of cattle.

He also said that the party is making efforts to find a harmonious solution to the Datta Peetha issue. He said the government is seeking active participation of people in different fields including in managing religious places.

Throughout his address, Bommai tried to drive home the point on how the BJP is a party with a difference. "The government is operating on three 'Es' namely - Education, Employment and Empowerment. It includes providing education to children of all sections of the society, providing employment to the unemployed and empowering youth and women folk", he said.

Hampi gets its firang 'sosse'! Guide marries Belgian tourist

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@Hosapete

THEY say love knows no boundaries. And this saying was once again proved right in the case of Ananthraju and Camille.

Ananthraju, 30, a tourist guide from Hampi, married Camille, 27, from Belgium at the famous Virupaksha Temple here on Friday.

Ananthraju, the groom, also drives an autorickshaw in Hampi. He met Camille in 2019 when she had visited Hampi along with her family. He had shown around the ruins to Camille and her family and also helped them in their accommodation.

Camille and her family were impressed by Ananthraju's honesty and enthusiasm.

After Camille returned to Belgium, they got in touch on social media and continued to talk. Both of them had liked each other but they could not meet due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Six months ago, both of them told their respective families about their 'long-distance love' which was approved by them.

On Thursday evening, the couple got engaged in Hosapete and the photos went viral on social media. "Camille had come to Hampi in 2019 along with her parents and siblings. As they had visited Hampi for the first time they were worried about the stay and food. But I ensured that they got the best of the hotels in Hampi. The family was happy with the arrangements and had promised me that they will visit Hampi again," explained Ananthraju.

Ananthraju and Camillie take part in their wedding rituals in Hampi on Friday

Meanwhile, Ananthraju and Camille were in touch on social media and phone.

"We fell in love and decided to marry a year ago. As most of the restrictions over the pandemic are now clear, the marriage was fixed for November 25 in Hampi. The marriage was conducted as per Hindu traditions. Close to 40 relatives and friends of Camille came down to Hampi for the marriage. It is a great moment for me and my family. My marriage has proved that love has no boundary," he elaborated.

"When we were looking to visit Vijaya Vittala Temple, Ananthraju, who was driving an auto, took us there. During the ride he also assured us about our stay and hotels where we could eat. All my family members liked him and his honesty. I love the temples and nature of Hampi. It is a great feeling to come back and get married to the man I love," Camille said.

Meanwhile, Iranna Poojari, a senior guide from Hampi, said that there have been two such marriages in the recent past where foreign tourists tied the knot with Hampi youths.

High Court relief for Santhosh as SIT notice stayed

Notice put on hold till December 5

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

IN a major relief to BJP national general secretary (organisation) BL Santhosh on Friday, Justice K Surender of Telangana High Court stayed the operation of the notice issued by the SIT, under Section 41A of the Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC), to the BJP leader, summoning him to appear before it on November 26 or 28, in connection with the probe into the alleged poaching of TRS MLAs.

"Prima facie, this court believes the requirements indicated in the notice under Section 41A of the CrPC issued to BL Santhosh are missing," the judge stated in his order.

"This court thinks it proper to stay the issue of notice dated November 23, 2022, till the next date of hearing on December 5, 2022," the judge added.

In his orders, the judge stated: "The investigating agency cites in its petition that (i) reasonable grounds or complaint is made against the noticee (ii) there is reasonable suspicion against the noticee (iii) credible information against the noticee is received to summon the noticee have not satisfied the requirements under Section 41A of the CrPC. The notice cannot be issued under Section 41A, if the aforementioned condition is not met."

D Prakash Reddy, senior counsel for Santhosh since the commencement of the hearing, claimed that both notices failed to meet the fundamental prerequisites for issue of a notice under Section 41A. As a result, the notice may be quashed.

The state's Advocate General appeared in court and informed that the SIT has substantial and credible information against Santhosh in the TRS MLAs poaching case. After hearing both sides, the court stayed the notice given to Santhosh and adjourned the case to December 5.

THE Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) is all set to launch its Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle (PSLV) C54 on Saturday.

The launch will take place at ISRO's Sriharikota-based Satish Dhawan Space Centre (SDSC) at 11.56 am on November 26. The launch vehicle is scheduled to carry ISRO's Oceansat-3 alongside eight other nano satellites. This will be the last launch of PSLV in 2022, having completed two missions previously in February and June this year. In all, it will be the rocket's 56th mission.

Pixxel satellite to sharpen imaging

Bengaluru-based startup Pixxel is set to launch its satellite, Anand, on Saturday on the PSLV-C54. Pixxel CEO Awais Ahmed told TNIE that Anand will be the last of its demo satellites, before the company moves to launching its planned 24-satellite constellation.

"The reason for Pixxel was to improve on existing sources of satellite imagery available commercially. Existing satellite imagery is unable to properly assess various problems. In agriculture, satellite imagery is used to assess the status of crops, but there is a need for more details, specifically on soil quality, nutrient contents and extent of irrigation, which is not available," he told TNIE.

He said the constellation would help achieve this, as the company has worked towards upscaling existing hyperspectral imaging, which is currently used in different areas to detect objects and identify processes for use in satellites. "Regular hyperspectral imaging from space is not really available in a commercial setting, so we decided to build our own constellation of satellites to aid in earth observation, as current technology needed an upgrade," he said.

The first six satellites are scheduled to launch next year, aiding several organisations and companies in procuring data in the fields of agriculture, oil and gas, and mining. "Currently, this is mainly to help in the agricultural sector, so we want to be able to detect any methane or sulphur leaks as part of gas pipelines, or any disturbances due to mining. However, the satellites can be used for various purposes, which we will expand to later on," he said.

Anand being the first of its satellites to launch on Indian soil, he said ISRO's support towards the company as well as logistical aid made it easier to launch from SDSC. "It is fairly convenient to launch the satellites as we're based out of Bengaluru and it's a six-hour journey to the centre. However, in terms of negatives, policy changes need to be made so that interdepartmental cooperation is easier. Procuring permissions and approvals from various departments to launch the satellite was a hassle," he said.

10-yr-old forgets to bring notebook, teacher wounds him with duster

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Karimnagar

THERE seems to be no end to the instances of corporal punishment at schools. An English schoolteacher threw a duster at a Class V student, causing him to bleed from his head. The cut was deep and wide and the boy had to be admitted to hospital, where doctors stitched up his wound. The incident occurred at the Vavilalapalli branch of Sri Chaitanya School here.

The only fault of the 10-year-old student, Kandle Jayanth, was that he forgot to bring his notebook to school. His English teacher, Maheshwari, in a fit of rage, threw a duster at the student, which hit him on his head. Instantly, blood began dripping from the wound.

The school management informed his parents that Jayanth had fallen down accidentally and hurt himself. For some time, the student was in a daze and could not speak coherently. Later, he told his parents what has happened.

Jayanth's mother Kiranmai was livid and confronted Maheshwari. But the staff who came in defence of the English teacher, physically pushed Kiranmai back. She lost her balance and fell down, slipping into an unconscious state. Later, the mother and her son were both shifted to hospital. Enraged relatives partially damaged school furniture. ABVP students, led by city secretary Sai Vishnu, staged a protest at the school premises, demanding criminal action against the management. Later, they lodged a complaint with the police.

The boy's father Chandan said that they would lodge a complaint with the police after his wife recovers. When contacted, District Educational Officer CHVS Janardhan Rao said he has ordered a probe into the incident.

Act on complaints from women's panel, cops told

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai has said that he has directed the police to register cases within seven to eight hours after the Karnataka State Commission for Women files a complaint and start the investigation within a day without any delay.

Speaking at the silver jubilee celebrations of the State Commission for Women, he said the State Government will take all measures to strengthen the commission and appoint lawyers to take up its cases.

Union minister Shobha Karandlaje, CM Basavaraj Bommai, minister Halappa Achar, and NCW Chairperson Rekha Sharma during the silver jubilee celebrations of Karnataka State Commission for Women in Bengaluru on Friday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Bommai said the government has taken up many welfare programmes and is taking measures to generate employment opportunities for 5 lakh women. The government has provided Rs 1 lakh to 7,500 stree shakti groups and increased honorarium for Asha workers, he said and added that under the Nirbhaya fund, 7,500 AI-enabled CCTV cameras are being installed in Bengaluru.

COLLEGIUM SYSTEM FOR TOP APPOINTMENTS CAN ENSURE EC CREDIBILITY

The transparent and independent functioning of constitutional institutions was the aim of our founding fathers. There have, however, been gaps which have been exploited by political parties reluctant to free the institutions from their control. This has led to the erosion of the credibility of these bodies. The Supreme Court has now questioned the process of appointment of election commissioners. There have been suggestions from former chief election commissioners that a collegium should make the appointments of election commissioners. The idea is to ensure transparency in the process. The Election Commission is a constitutional body. Even non-constitutional entities have collegiums. The Central Vigilance Commission is a statutory body, and the CBI is merely a government department. But collegiums make top appointments in both. The EC, on the other hand, is a constitutional body. But its top appointments are made directly by the government. It can be nobody's case that important institutions should not have a transparent appointment method. This is what the Supreme Court appears concerned about.

Not that all collegium appointees have acted in a non-partisan manner. But some filtering out at the entry-level and the involvement of the government and the opposition in the selection process strengthens the organisation's credibility. The process of strengthening democratic institutions is a work in progress. Indulging in whataboutery to say why talk only about one and not about others is a self-defeating exercise. It is part of India's political folklore that successive governments have been appointing pliable officers into sensitive organisations to do their bidding. Blocking transparency and autonomy will not strengthen institutions. There is a compelling case for introducing the collegium appointment system with a fixed tenure to top officers in constitutional and statutory bodies. This will go a long way in shielding the officials from undue government influence and making both government and opposition collectively responsible for the officials' actions, besides increasing the credibility of these entities.

It would serve the national interest to avoid imputing motives and playing blame games and focus on the larger question arising from the Supreme Court's scrutiny of the appointment of elections commissioners. The question is how to continue strengthening and democratising institutions' functioning and improving their credibility.

INFLATION SIGNALS EASE, BUT WORRIES REMAIN

The Ministry of Finance's monthly dispatch delivered good news, indicating that inflationary pressures will likely ease in the coming months. But its understrappers have taken away the punch bowl, dropping hints about the 'moderately' brisk rate of growth and how their internal estimates were reportedly being lowered to 6.3% this fiscal, down from 7% projected by the central bank. One obvious reason is the bleak outlook of the global economy, that's likely to be as weak next year as it was during the 2008 financial crisis, thanks to the Ukraine conflict, which is becoming a "forever war". Besides, the government believes that the US monetary tightening could be a "future risk", upsetting stock prices, currencies and bond yields, further leading to higher borrowing costs. This spells continued trouble for households and the industry, as it is battling high prices and rising interest rates.

The RBI began its hike cycle only in May, but the interest cover ratio for some 3,000-odd companies has fallen from 5.41 to 4.6 in H1-FY23, according to a Bank of Baroda study. The decline was largely due to falling profits, but higher interest costs, too, added their bit. But a slowing economic recovery would mean corporate profits will likely remain mixed. If, in April, evidence on consumption patterns suggested inflation having a lesser impact on low-income strata than on high-income groups according to the government, the RBI later added that sustained high inflation was having "pronounced adverse effects on the poorer segments" as well.

Against this backdrop, signs of inflation finally cooling down are heartening after staying above the 4% target for 37 consecutive months. But as RBI Deputy Governor Michael Patra observed, the existential question was whether the world is permanently shifting from a low-inflation environment to a high-inflation one. One of the reasons he cited was, given the macroeconomic and geopolitical uncertainties, unanticipated shocks aren't completely ruled out, which means monetary policymakers must take into account not their known positions but their uncertain future trajectory. In essence, central banks literally "shoot blind", and RBI's policy actions next month will determine if India's policymaker's got the right shot.

QUICK TAKE

DEFINING PUBLIC SERVICE

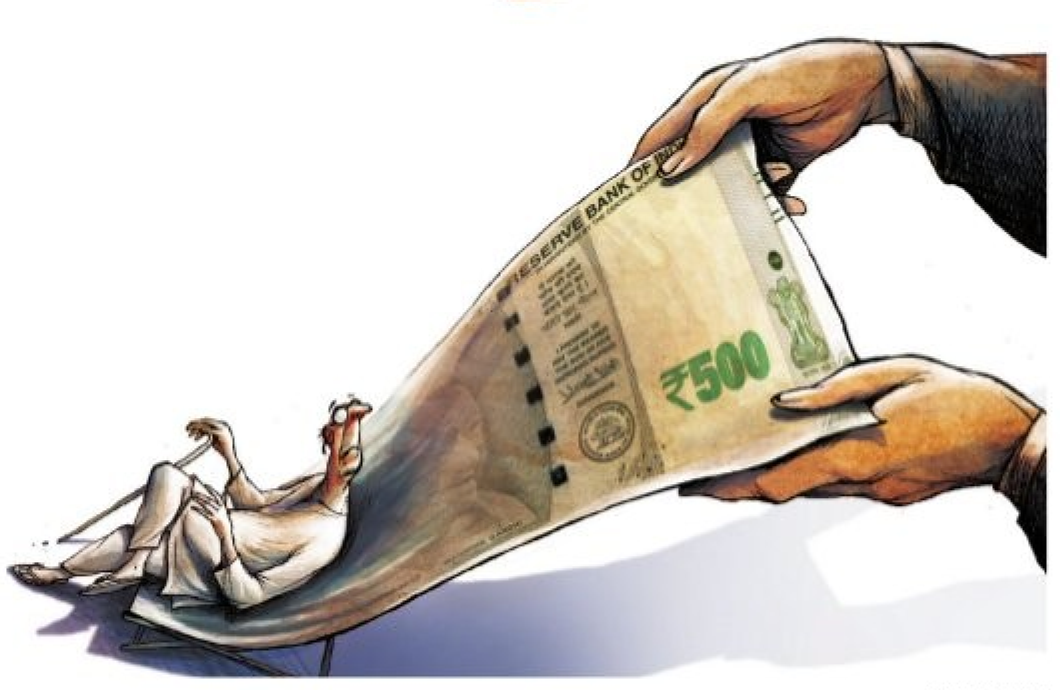
Himachal Pradesh Chief Secretary S S Sandhu asks his officers not to say no to work or take voluntary retirement. He points out officers sometimes say no because they are afraid of taking decisions. Simultaneously, the chief minister hints at changes to the Annual Confidential Reports to ensure efficiency. This is less of advice and more of a warning, sidestepping a vital issue: accountability of the politician in power. Political bosses can easily disown conscious decisions and get away with them, leaving officers in the lurch. Governance and public interest suffer if decision-makers and executors fail to complement each other.

It is not the proportion of the population that is important but the fact that all of them are old

AMID PENSION DEBATE, DO NOT FORGET PRINCIPLES

PRABHAT PATNAIK

Professor Emeritus, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi



SOUMYADIP SINHA

India has an extremely low tax-GDP ratio, ranking below 100 in the world list of countries. Besides, much of the tax revenue comes from the poor through indirect taxes. Despite a striking increase in income and wealth inequality in the neo-liberal era, this ratio has not risen much, which underlines the tax system's lack of progressivity. Yet, a rising share of government revenue is being diverted towards big capitalists in the name of promoting growth, the latest instance being the Production Linked Incentive Scheme (PLI). Not surprisingly, social sector expenditure is being curtailed, and even the MGNREGS is starved of funds.

The change in the pension scheme for government employees introduced by the Vajpayee government was part of this parsimony that is the obverse of the largesse towards the rich. By bringing in a self-contributory element and investing pension funds in the financial market, this "reform" reduced government contribution; it imposed a tax on each employee for his or her own pension, thereby offloading pensioners from the general revenue; and it made the pension amount uncertain and dependent on the market by making the pensioner rather than the government bear the investment risk.

The main argument for the change that it reduced the burden on the exchequer was an illicit one. A government must raise revenues to meet its social obligations rather than reneging on its social obligations on the plea of inadequate revenues. Whether pensions should be part contributory or wholly budget-financed must, therefore, be debated independently of the prevailing state of government finances; it has to be discussed on the basis of principles.

This simple point has escaped many. Some have termed the return to the old scheme currently being promised by several non-BJP parties as "immoral", since it leaves the financial burden that would emerge only in later years to a future government, thereby garnering current popularity at the expense of some hapless government in the future. This accusation, however, is logically flawed, for then any infrastructure project whose gestation period exceeds the life of a single government should be considered "immoral".

The "morality" of committing a future government to expenditure promised now must be judged entirely by whether the expenditure is worthwhile; bequeathing a burden to the future is not in itself immoral. The issue, therefore, is whether a pension amounting to a fixed proportion of salary should be paid by the government from the budget. If we believe it should, the government must then raise the revenue for it, for which, as suggested earlier, there is ample scope.

On the question of the worthwhileness of the old pension scheme too, arguments are being advanced which are quite irrelevant. One says that since the private sector has a pension scheme that insists on beneficiary contribution, there is no reason why the government should do otherwise. There is no earthly reason, however, why the state should emulate the private sector. A second argument talks of the minuscule proportion of the population that would benefit from a return to the old scheme, contrasting it with the large budgetary outflow it would entail. But this, too, is irrelevant: it is not the proportion of the population that is important but the fact that all of them are old, and any society worth its name must treat its old persons considerately.

There are two obvious arguments in favour of the old pension scheme, that is, charging the general exchequer rather than taxing the beneficiaries for the pension amount. First, a fair number of government employees have only modest means. Many even fall below the income tax exemption limit; taxing them for their pension payments is clearly invidious. They may be better off than the urban and rural poor such as agricultural labourers, poor peasants and fishermen, but that is hardly pertinent: The demand for a minimum wage, after all, is not invalidated because it exceeds the incomes of a large number of people.

It is also true that many government employees are very well off, but additional taxation that has to be levied for meeting pension demands from the exchequer will impound resources from them anyway so that the effective transfer, if the old system is revived, would be from the well-off in society to the relatively poorer segments of government employees.The second argument has to do with the conception of the state. Employees of the state, whether at the Central or the state government level, are, in a sense, employees of society as a whole; they are conceptually on a different footing from employees of private firms, which is why terms like "civil servant" or "public servant" are used for them. They are meant to serve society. Whether or not they do so is a separate matter; if they do not, then that has to be rectified. But the conception of state employees as employees serving society as a whole must not be given up; that conception demands that not just their salaries but their pensions too must be borne by society as a whole from the resources it makes available to the state. Their pensions, it follows, must come out of the state exchequer.

Indeed a failure of neo-liberalism, unlike old liberalism such as that of John Maynard Keynes, is not to see the state ideally as representing society as a whole, as working for a set of objectives different from private employers. Judging public enterprises by their profitability, exactly on par with private enterprises, is an example of this failure. In formulating a pension policy, we must not repeat this failure.

Any discussion of pension policy for government employees will remain incomplete if a general policy of non-contributory pensions for the vast number of senior citizens who do not have access to any institutional pension schemes is not mentioned. The government-run non-contributory pension scheme currently provides ₹200 per month to a recipient between 60 and 79 and ₹500 above that age. This is ludicrous; providing a living non-contributory pension of about ₹3000 per month must be a duty of society to the old. Resources for this can be raised if there is a political will: India, after all, still lacks not just a meaningful wealth tax but even an inheritance tax that most capitalist countries have.

CALIBRATING US-PHILIPPINES RELATIONS UNDER MARCOS JR

SHANKARI SUNDARARAMAN

Professor at School of International Studies, JNU, New Delhi

ASIAN AXIS

The administration of President Marcos Jr marked a hundred days in office in the first week of October. The foremost concerns for the new administration remain the country's economic recovery, particularly in implementing a post-pandemic strategy and reducing poverty to a single digit during the six-year term. In a clear departure from the former Duterte administration, the Marcos presidency has also noticeably embarked on a more proactive engagement with the United States. Under the Duterte administration, the Philippines-US ties saw a clear decline, especially based on the administration's human rights record. The former president's role during his tenure as Davao city mayor and the government's role in extra-judicial killings to address the drug menace drove a wedge between the two. Moreover, Duterte's drift towards establishing closer ties with China also accounted for uncertainties within the regional dynamics. The intensification of the US-China rivalry led to regional countries hedging between these two.

Marcos' presidency, however, has shown two distinct shifts early on. First is the reference by President Marcos during his speech at the United Nations General Assembly in September on respecting human rights while upholding justice and the relevance of international law in interstate disputes. This resonates with the Biden administration's outreach towards the regional countries. Second, the administration in October had looked at revamping the security ties with the US, which has been a critical pillar of the US-Philippines ties since 1951 when the Mutual Defence Treaty (MDT) was signed. The Philippines was also home to two US military bases till 1992—the Subic naval base was initially built under Spanish rule. It was handed over to the US after the Philippines changed from Spanish hands to the US in 1898. This was decommissioned after the US' withdrawal in 1992, while the Clark Airbase was shut by 1991. Their presence was significant for two reasons. The martial law under General Ferdinand Marcos had led to a battered economy that the Corazon Aquino government eventually inherited. The presence of the US bases allowed for some respite by providing a much-needed source of foreign earnings. Second, the Cold War's impact on the Asia-Pacific region was a critical focus area for the US. Through its bilateral engagement with its allies in the region and, subsequently, during prolonged conflicts in Vietnam and Cambodia, the bases provided the US with a clear presence in Southeast Asia, which remained critical until the end of the Cold War. The US may have wanted a continued presence in the region, but bilateral differences with the Philippines over the cost of maintaining the bases led to a break in the US-Philippines ties, even though the significance of the MDT continued without disruptions.

AP

The Marcos government explores the option of furthering defence-related ties with the US, initially proposed under the Enhanced Defence Cooperation Agreement

The closure of the bases was also seen as the US 'absence' from Southeast Asia for almost a decade. From 2001 onwards, the US preoccupation with the War on Terror led to a shift, later recalibrated under the Obama administration's pivot to Asia and the US rebalancing strategy. The clearest indicator of this was US engagement across the multilateral forums established by the ASEAN mechanisms, particularly the signing of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation (TAC), which was conditional for a country's entry into the East Asia Summit (EAS). Even while great power rivalry has increased, the responses from such mechanisms have been ineffective; the EAS Foreign Ministers' Meeting held in August has been more symbolic than substantial.

Against this backdrop, the increasing security ties between the Marcos administration and the US built the focus on recalibrating the US' ties with its oldest bilateral ally in the region. Last month, the US-Philippines war games exercise, Kamandag, took place, and included, for the first time, both Japanese and South Korean forces. This was a departure from the usual annual bilateral Kamandag exercises, allowing for greater synergy and interoperability between the forces of the two countries. This year's expansion to include Japan and South Korea is tied to the Biden administration's National Defence Strategy of 2022, where the emphasis on an integrated deterrence strategy signals a critical shift in how the US is trying to recalibrate its role in the wider Indo-Pacific. Vital to this approach is the role longstanding US allies play and how they need to be brought into the context of a broad-based strategy that includes military, economic and diplomatic option.

Similar to this, as part of the Visiting Forces Agreement established in 1998, the US and the Philippines have an annual Balikatan exercise that has recently expanded to include Australia. This expansion occurred once Australia and the Philippines inked their Visiting Forces Agreement, which made it conducive for Australia to be included in the Balikatan exercises, expanding the scope for interoperability between the three countries.

The Marcos administration is exploring the option of furthering defence-related ties with the US, initially proposed under the Enhanced Defence Cooperation Agreement signed in 2014. EDCA calibrated how the Obama administration could further engage the Philippines in enhancing its regional presence but did not garner much favour under Duterte. In October, the US looked at the possibility of allocating nearly $70 million towards enhancing the capacities in several military bases where both countries can coordinate responses to humanitarian crises and build coordinated strategies to address threats to sovereignty. The Marcos administration's tilt is increasingly evident as it has taken a firmer position on issues such as Chinese violations of international law in the South China Sea. Even as geopolitical tensions in the region grow, the bilateral ties are on the mend.

Curbing hate speech

Apropos of Drawing the line: Hate speech is not free speech (Nov 25). The writer has rightly said that hate speech does not mean limiting or prohibiting freedom of speech. It is imperative that all calls for violence must be unequivocally condemned by prominent citizens, irrespective of their religious, ethnic, ideological or regional origin. However, double standards and selectivity in condemnation should be avoided lest they should raise questions of motive and morality.

Congress drama in Kerala

Hitting the bull's eye, the editorial, Congress must address the Tharoor factor if it is to survive (Nov 25), has given an equanimous assessment of the malaise that the Congress in Kerala finds itself in. It is debatable whether the feeling of insecurity in the minds of the state leaders in the party or the 'sinned against than sinning' grouse felt by Tharoor is the main contributor to the sticky situation.

Only 'one' solution

The column, Questioning the feasibility of one nation, one election (Nov 25), makes for an interesting read with its elaborate scrutiny of India's elections and the impact on politics and the economy. The never-ending series of elections demand time, effort and funds, often at the cost of sincere governance and development. The one nation, one election as mooted by our prime minister seems to be a better alternative.

TN students' jobs

Apropos of Tamil Nadu college students hit pay dirt with campus jobs (Nov 25). Though it seems rosy to get jobs after UG, it has its own disadvantages. These students don't pursue their studies. Jobs aren't permanent. Losing a job means their livelihoods are lost.

Shashi's road ahead

Whatever Shashi Tharoor does these days seems to court controversy. First it was the Congress presidential election, and now when he meets prominent people in Malabar, it seems to have irked a few. Is he growing in stature as a regional leader? Certainly, yes.

TTE must pay for his sin

It was sad to learn that the Army jawan who had lost both his legs after he was pushed off the Rajdhani Express by a TTE at Bareilly station succumbed to his injuries. The TTE should be caught without delay and tried for culpable homicide not amounting to murder. His cruel act deserves no mercy.

Modi releases book on life of Ahom general Lachit Barphukan, says country above dynasty

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

PM Narendra Modi with Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma during the celebrations of the 400th birth anniversary of Lachit Barphukan in New Delhi on Friday | PTI

HOLDING that "bravehearts" like the 17th century Ahom army general Lachit Barphukan "showed that forces of fanaticism and terror perish but the immortal light of Indian life remains eternal", Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Friday that the commander's 'life teaches us that instead of nepotism and dynasty, the country should be supreme'.

Speaking at the concluding day of a three-day programme celebrating the 400th birth anniversary of Barphukan, Modi said that India's history taught after Independence was the 'same which was written as a conspiracy during the period of slavery (under the Mughals)'. Barphukan is credited with defeating the army of Mughal emperor Aurangzeb at the battle of Saraighat. The PM said the unmatched bravery of the land of Assam and the northeast was evident as they had repulsed the invasions of Turks, Afghans and Mughals.

Assam Governor Professor Jagadish Mukhi, Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, Union Minister Sarbananda Sonowal, Members of Parliament Justice (retd) Ranjan Gogoi and Topon Kumar Gogoi and state government officials were present on the occasion.

Modi, who released a book, Lachit Barphukan: Assam's Hero who Halted the Mughals, said that while there was a need to 'change the agenda of foreigners who made us slaves', this was 'not done'. He added that Barphukan's 'life teaches us that instead of nepotism and dynasty, the country should be supreme'.

The PM said that 'even though the Mughals had captured Guwahati, it was bravehearts like Lachit Barphukan who won independence from the clutches of tyrannical rulers of the Mughal empire'.

Conflating the celebrations surrounding Barphukan's 400th anniversary with the government's Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav programme, Modi reiterated "India's mood to get rid of the mentality of slavery and take pride in its heritage".

Pointing out that 'stories of fierce resistance to tyranny in every part of the country were willfully suppressed', the PM said that while there are 'countless stories of victory over tyranny during the long period of repression, the mistake of not recording those events in the mainstream is being rectified now'.

Noting that in the past, India faced 'unexpected adversities' and withstood the 'unimaginable terror of foreign invaders', Modi said that the country stood 'immortal with the same energy and consciousness' because whenever faced with a crisis 'some personality emerged to tackle that'.

Suggesting creating a "grand theatre play" on Barphukan on the lines of the one on Shivaji, Modi said that this will give a "great boost to the resolution of 'Ek Bharat, Shreshtha Bharat'.

said India was correcting its past mistakes by celebrating its heritage and remembering its unsung bravehearts who were lost in the pages of history written as part of a conspiracy during the colonial era.

The Prime Minister said unfortunately even after Independence, the history that was written as part of a conspiracy during the colonial era continued to be taught.

BJP eyes Pasmanda Muslim vote bank as 'an experiment'

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

MONTHS after Prime Minister Narendra Modi advocated socio-economic and political uplift of Pasmanda Muslims at his party's national executive meeting, the BJP is now learnt to have started making a new 'electoral experiment' with this section of the community with an intent to create a Muslim vote bank for the future. The Pasamanda Muslims, according to a rough estimate constitute around 70-80% of India's Muslim population (19.50 crore).

The party is organising conferences to win the community over by its policies and government welfare schemes launched for their socio-economic uplift.

The first conference of Pasamanda Muslims was organised in Lucknow on October 16 this year, followed by six other places by the BJP's OBC and the Minority Morcha (fronts). So far, six other mega conferences for the communtiy have been organised. UP has the highest number of Pasamanda Muslims, accounting for around 3.5 crore of the population, while Bihar has approximately 1.5 crore such Muslims.

Sources say that the BJP is attempting to bring a larger chunk of the communities, especially those whose ancestors had once converted to Islam from various Hindu castes into the existing OBCs, the SCs and the STs into the fold of party's votebank. "If the Saffron party succeeds in creating this new electoral equation with Pasamanda Muslim communities along with the OBC, SC and ST vote banks, the party will remain in power at the Centre for the next 50 years," said a senior party leader.

Pasmanda is a Persian word that means the 'ones left behind'. The word is used to describe the depressed classes among Muslims who have been deliberately or consciously excluded from the fruits of power and privilege.

Sachar Committee said OBC and SC/ST Muslims were 40% of India's overall Muslim population in 2004-05. But Pasmanda activists and scholars say they make up 80-85% of India's Muslim population that is around

19-20crore

Backward, Dalit, and tribal Muslims use the word Pasmanda as an umbrella identity to flag caste-based discrimination within the community.

Their voting percentage has always been registered more than 70%

in every election

In UP, the population of Pasmanda Muslims is around 3.5 crore — highest in the country. In Bihar, it is around

1.5 crore

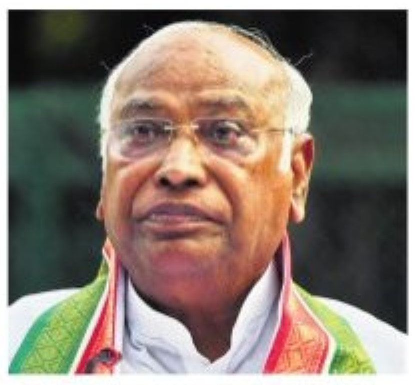
In country's 18 states including Karnataka, Kerala MP, UP, Bihar and Jharkhand, the Pasmanda Muslims play a very decisive role in the elections, determining the results in a number of constituencies

Kerala, Raj crises stare at Kharge as Congress to hold key meeting

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AS new Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge chairs the first steering committee meeting of the Congress party on December 4, his immediate challenge would be to tackle the crisis in two states — Rajasthan and Kerala, where the beleaguered party is facing leadership issues . The meeting assumes significance as it's the first meeting of the steering committee after Kharge took over the mantle of the embattled party.

After taking over as the party chief, Kharge reconstituted the steering committee after dissolving the Congress Working Committee as per the Constitution of the party. According to a letter issued by Congress General Secretary K C Venugopal, the agenda of the meeting will be to finalise the dates for plenary session, the Bharat Jodo Yatra, and other organisational issues. However, party insiders say that the spotlight will be on the turf war in Rajasthan between Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and his nemesis Sachin Pilot, and the rumblings in Kerala after Shashi Tharoor's North



Kerala political outreach.

Though the developments in both states caught the party off guard, a section of party leaders feels that Kharge, as the new president, allowed to fester the rebellion which has been brewing in Rajasthan for quite some time. With Gehlot's fresh offensive against his deputy Pilot, things have come to a head for the party ahead of the Bharat Jodo Yatra entering the state, says a leader. "The new president should have looked into the Rajasthan crisis on a priority basis. Now it is too late for the party to act," said a leader

There is disenchantment among a section of leaders that even after a month of taking over, Kharge failed to address leadership issues in the party. A few days after Kharge took over; Pilot demanded an end to the climate of indecision in Rajasthan. Subsequently, senior leader Ajay Maken resigned as the AICC in charge of Rajasthan in protest of inaction against the Gehlot loyalists who held a parallel Congress Legislature Party (CLP) meeting in September.

"The party president did not intervene even after Maken's letter expressing willingness to resign as the in charge of the state. It seems like Kharge's hands are tied. He needs to act now," said another leader.

A senior leader said that though the new party chief was expected to bring in reforms and bring together the warring factions, the party is still in limbo.

In Kerala too, the top leadership' s cold shouldering of Shashi Tharoor, who contested against Kharge in the Congress presidential elections, has resulted in Tharoor shifting focus to his home turf Kerala. Tharoor's political outreach in North Kerala has rattled the senior party leaders and the party is still reeling from in-fighting.

WB teachers' recruitment: SC stays CBI probe

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday stayed the Calcutta HC's order directing CBI to probe the source from which an application was filed by the West Bengal Central School Service Commission (SSC) in a case related to the teachers' recruitment scam.

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud and Justice Hima Kohli also stayed HCs order directing personal presence of West Bengal Principal Secretary Manish Jain into the multi crore scam in government schools.

While issuing notice, bench in their order said, "Pending further orders, the orders of the Single Judge dated 23 November 2022 (Annexures P-6 and P-7) and the order of the Division Bench dated 24 November 2022 shall remain stayed. No further consequential steps shall be taken in pursuance of the impugned orders of the Single Judge which have been affirmed by the Division Bench. The direction to the CBI to investigate at whose behest the interim application was filed before the Single Judge shall accordingly remain stayed."

Court's order came against the backdrop of Senior Advocate AM Singhvi for the West Bengal government mentioning the plea before the bench.

Opining that the application that was filed by the Commission was "benami", single judge of the HC Justice Abhijit Gangopadhyay had directed CBI on November 23 to probe the source from which the application had originated. The judge had not only proceeded to inquire as to whether the counsel had drafted the application or not but had also refused to allow him to withdraw the same. Refusal was on the ground that the court wanted to enquire into "who was pulling the strings from behind such application."

Entirely different considerations will follow. The degree of deference must also be higher...," he said.

Court asked to frame charges in Lakhimpur case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Friday asked the trial court dealing with the Lakhimpur Kheri violence case to decide on the issue of framing charges against main accused Union Minister Ajay Mishra's son Ashish Mishra on November 29 or in a week thereafter.

On being informed chargesheet has already been submitted in 2022 and the trial court was yet to pass appropriate orders regarding framing of charges, a bench of Justices Surya Kant and Vikram Nath said that trial court's hearing may have some bearing on Union Minister Ajay Mishra's son Ashish Mishra, main accused in the Lakhimpur Kheri violence case seeking bail.

The violence had taken place in October 2021 when several farmers were protesting against visit of UP Dy CM Keshav Prasad Maurya to Lakhimpur Kheri.

'Packaged food items must have front warning'

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

A national think tank on nutrition policy said on Wednesday that all pre-packaged food products should have front-of-pack labelling to indicate salt, sugar and saturated fat content to warn the public.

According to Dr Arun Gupta, the convenor of National Advocacy in Public Interest (NAPi), a national think-tank on nutrition consisting of independent medical experts, paediatricians and nutritionists, the increased consumption of these products is directly associated with obesity, type-2 diabetes, hypertension, heart disease, chronic kidney disease, cancer and adverse mental health.

Demanding that all pre-packaged food products should have front-of-pack labelling (FOPL) instead of displaying 'health star rating, as is being proposed, he said the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) has blundered on a draft food policy, which they have put up for comments.

If not changed substantially, the draft regulation of Labelling and Display is unlikely to achieve the intended objective. The FSSAI mandate is to ensure, which food is safe for Indian consumers, he said. He added many countries, including Chile, Mexico and Israel are already following FOPL.

Robust scientific evidence indicates that pre-packaged food products — which are usually industrial formulations and marketed — are responsible for increasing the salt/sugar or saturated fat content of one's diet.

Quoting new findings, Dr Gupta said that the prevalence of high BP in Indian adolescents is substantially high -one in three -and coexists with other cardiovascular disease risk factors, he said, adding that this calls for interventions to reduce the consumption of foods high in sugar, salt, or saturated fats.

Dr Gupta said there is no scientific evidence that adding a positive factor or nutrient, like vegetables/ fruit/ nuts etc., to an unhealthy food product would reduce the risk of disease.

Dr Vandana Prasad, a member of NAPi and a public health expert, said that considering that the draft of certain regulations to amend further the Food Safety and Standards (Labelling & Display) Regulations, 2020 is being brought out in the interest of people's health, it is a fundamental flaw to rate foods from 'least healthy to healthiest' and include the notion of declaring warnings against foods that are accepted as being unhealthy. "The vehement response by the food industry against any form of FOPL is testimony to the fact that it depends on massive profits. Does the FSSAI exist to protect their interests or the interests of the consumer? This is the question that this draft raises," she said. Having policies to reduce the consumption of such food products will impact the dietary habits of populations and preserve traditional diets, she added.

"By sticking to a focal point of high sodium, total sugar and total fats, front-of-pack labels will not allow the industry to play around with the algorithms of unhealthy foods," said Ashim Sanyal, COO, a voluntary organisation in interest of consumer education (VOICE).

TOP COURT SEEKS CENTRE'S RESPONSE ON GAY MARRIAGE

Shruti Kakkar
@New Delhi

FOUR years after decriminalising consensual sex between homosexuals, the Supreme Court on Friday sought the Centre's response on same-sex marriage under the Special Marriage Act. The Act provides for civil marriage for Indian citizens irrespective of their religion or faith but limits access to couples comprising one male and one female.

A bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice Hima Kohli was hearing the pleas filed by two gay couples, who said non-recognition of their marriage amounts to discrimination.

The bench issued notice to the government and posted the matter after four weeks.

Senior advocate Neeraj Kishan Kaul informed the bench that similar petitions are pending before the Kerala and Delhi high courts seeking recognition of same-sex marriage under the Special Marriage Act, Foreign Marriage Act and Hindu Marriage Act.

Terming the issues highlighted in the pleas 'live', senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi said, "It's an important issue affecting the nation. These are sequels of Navtej Singh and Puttaswamy case. We're only talking about Special Marriage Act. The Act says marriage should be between two persons and doesn't say that it'll be a union of A & B."

In Navtej Singh's case, the SC had held that LGBTQ+ community possesses the same human, fundamental and constitutional rights as other citizens. In Puttaswamy's case, the SC's nine-judge bench had held that the Constitution protects non-binary individuals and that protections under Articles 14, 15, 16, 19 & 21 cannot be restricted to biological sex of "male" or "female".

'Relief on anvil for those hit by coal mining'

ENS @New Delhi

SPEAKING about the Deocha-Pachami coal mining project, touted as Asia's largest coal mine, West Bengal Minister of Industry, Commerce and Enterprises Shashi Panja on Friday said that a rehabilitation package for those who would be affected is being worked out.

"Rehabilitation package is being worked out; it is not like throwing out the people and go ahead with the coal mining. It is to rehabilitate them in a bigger way. It is almost like creating hospitals, educational institutions, and to employ them in the coal mining sector. It is this rehabilitation package, which we are going ahead with. Once it is fully done and people are satisfied, we will proceed," said the minister. She was responding to the media queries about the deadline for the mining project during a press conference held on the occasion of West Bengal Day at India International Trade Fair in Delhi.

"Alongside this rehab, extraction has started. Down the line, we will be able to tell you further," Panja added following a specific question about a possible deadline for the mining project.

Taught a lesson to '02 rioters, says Shah

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

IN a strong defence of the BJP's core electoral strength, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday sought to remind Gujarat voters how the party "taught a lesson" to the perpetrators of violence in 2002.

The 2002 Gujarat riots triggered three-day communal carnage across the state after the train burning incident in Godhra on February 27 that year.

"The BJP established permanent peace in Gujarat by firmly dealing with the perpetrators of violence," he said while addressing a rally in Mahudha town of Kheda district.

"Before 1995 during the Congress rule in the state, communal riots were rampant. Congress used to incite people of different communities and castes to fight against each other. Through such riots, Congress strengthened its vote bank and did injustice to a large section of the society," said Shah. "Anti-social elements indulged in violence in the state as the Congress supported them," he added.

Shah said the state witnessed riots in 2002 because perpetrators had become emboldened due to the support of Congress. "After the perpetrators were taught a lesson in 2002, they left the path of violence. They have lost the strength to indulge in violence in the last two decades. The BJP established permanent peace in Gujarat by taking strict action against those who ignited communal violence," said Shah.

Shah also criticized the Congress over corruption. "In a decade of the UPA government from 2004 to 2014, scams worth Rs 12 lakh-crore took place. During the Congress rule, there were so many scams that one could not even count them. However, the BJP rule has been clean. This is the difference between the two parties," said Shah. He alleged that the Congress only talked about removing poverty. "In reality, they work for their own interests only," he said.

"They got votes in the name of poverty but did nothing for the poor. Instead of removing poverty, they removed the poor. Congress leaders only filled their houses with money," Shah said. The elections for the 182-member Assembly will be held in two phases on December 1 and 5. The counting of votes will be taken up on December 8.

Thanking Prime Minister Narendra Modi for abrogating Article 370 from Jammu and Kashmir, Shah alleged that the Congress was against it because of its "vote bank".

Meanwhile, three persons were arrested for allegedly flying a camera-mounted drone near a venue of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's rally at Bavla village in Ahmedabad district, the police said, PTI reported.

Modi addressed a rally at the village on Thursday as part of the BJP's campaign for the state Assembly polls.

Flying drones near the venue had been banned by the district collector for security reasons.

Before the rally, police spotted some persons using a remote-controlled drone to capture the visuals of the crowd, said inspector Bharat Patel, a local police officer. "These three local men were capturing visuals of the crowd for their personal purpose. We arrested them and booked them under Indian Penal Code (IPC) section 188 (violating official orders)," he said.

POLICE ADVISORY

'Labourers in J&K shouldn't go out at night'

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

In view of the continued targeted attacks by militants on migrant workers in the Valley, police on Friday, have advised them not to go out in vulnerable localities at night.

For added security, the police have also asked the landlords to install CCTVs at their work and residential places. Srinagar police on its official Twitter account stated that the migrant workers have been advised not to roam at night in vulnerable localities.

It further said that the landlords, where the migrant labourers work and stay, have also been advised to install CCTVs.

In the series of targeted attacks on migrant workers this year, nine labourers including seven from Bihar and two from Uttar Pradesh have been killed. 13 migrant workers have also been injured in these targeted attacks by militants.

J&K Police Chief Dilbagh Singh recently said militants are targeting people who come to earn livelihood in Kashmir. "It is our responsibility to keep them safe and secure," he said.

Wherever these acts have taken place, police have taken serious action against the perpetrators.

Border row: Offices, banks remain shut as Sangma meets NHRC chairperson

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

THE Meghalaya government on Friday approached the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) to demand action against the Assam Police and the forest personnel responsible for the killings of five civilians from Meghalaya on the interstate border on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, most central and state government offices besides financial institutions, including banks, remained closed in Shillong after a group of five tribal organisations called upon employees to observe the day as "non-cooperation day" in protest against the firing.

Attendance was thin in some offices, including the state secretariat, which remained open. In the meeting with NHRC chairperson Justice Arun Kumar Mishra and other members in New Delhi, Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma also stressed on the need for proper sensitisation of forces deputed in sensitive border areas so that such incidents do not recur in any part of the country.

"The firing was a clear violation of human rights by the Assam Police and forest guards who killed five civilians from Meghalaya and an Assam forest guard," Sangma said in a video message later.

In Shillong, five tribal organisations have got together and demanded that the state government address the problems being faced by people residing along the interstate border with Assam, and try the guilty Assam personnel in Meghalaya.

After the incident, Shillong has been witnessing stray incidents of violence.

A customs inspector, Alok Kumar, suffered serious injuries after he was attacked by a mob on Thursday. He has been admitted to the ICU. Meanwhile, in a relief to Meghalaya, the Assam Petroleum Mazdoor Union on Friday decided to resume the transportation of fuel to the hill state following Sangma government's assurance that it would provide security to oil tankers and their crew.

The union had on Thursday taken a decision against carrying petroleum supplies to Meghalaya citing security reasons.

Cong threatens to sue BJP over 'doctored' video on Rahul's yatra

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Friday said that it will take legal action against the BJP for its attempts to discredit the Bharat Jodo Yatra by using doctored videos. The BJP IT cell head Amit Malviya had claimed that "Pakistan Zindabad" slogans were raised during the Bharat Jodo Yatra in Madhya Pradesh.

Malviya had posted a video of the Yatra in which former Congress President Rahul Gandhi, party general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and Madhya Pradesh Congress President Kamal Nath are seen walking and a voice purportedly shouting 'Pakistan Zindabad' is heard towards the end of the 21 second clip.

Launching a broadside against the BJP, Congress' general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said that a video "doctored" by the "dirty tricks department" of the BJP is doing the rounds to discredit the "highly successful" Bharat Jodo Yatra.

"We are taking the necessary legal action immediately. We are prepared for such tactics, and there will be payback," he said. Earlier, Malviya had tweeted, "After Richa Chaddha's public application to join Rahul Gandhi's Bharat 'Jodo' Yatra, 'Pakistan Zindabad' (listen towards the end of the video) slogans raised in Khargon. INC MP posted the video and then deleted it after the faux pas came to light. This is Congress's truth. "

The Congress spokesperson also claimed that the Madhya Pradesh government "intimidated" and aggressively prevented tribal families displaced by the diamond mining project in Chhatarpur district from meeting Rahul Gandhi this afternoon. "This is democracy-BJP style," said Ramesh in a tweet. In another tweet, Ramesh also alleged that the MP government "intimidated" and aggressively prevented tribal families displaced by the diamond mining project in Chhatarpur district from meeting Rahul Gandhi this afternoon.

'Nath involved in 1984 riots': Aide joins BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

MPCC chief Kamal Nath's trusted aide and state party media wing's vice-chairman Narendra Saluja joined the BJP in the presence of CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan and Forest Minister Kunwar Vijay Shah in Bhopal on Friday. Saluja accused Nath of being involved in 1984 anti-Sikh riots in Delhi.

"I can no longer be in a party which protects politicians, like Kamal Nath, who was involved in the killing of Sikhs in 1984. I also demand that Rahul Gandhi, who is on a Yatra to end hate and unite people, should not only stop walking with people like Kamal Nath, but also sack him. I've joined the BJP as a worker and will do whatever the party wants me to do, including laying carpets at party events. But I'll expose before the people of MP, the real anti-Sikh face of Kamal Nath and Congress," he said. Meanwhile, Congress issued a backdated letter to Saluja intimating him about his expulsion from the party for anti-party activities.

Farmers say 'govt hasn't kept its word', to begin stir

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

ALLEGING that the BJP-led NDA government has breached the written assurances given to the farmers and to mark the second anniversary of the agitation against the now-repealed three farm laws, the Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM) on Friday announced to hold countrywide marches to Raj Bhavans on November 26.

Incidentally, November 26 is also the day when the first agitation started in 2020. The group has also urged rural voters in poll-bound Gujarat to question and punish the ruling BJP on the legal guarantee of minimum support price (MSP) issue in the upcoming assembly elections.

A meeting between 33 farmers' union of Punjab under SKM was held at Gurdwara Amb Sahib in Mohali, where it was decided to take out the march on November 27, from the gurdwara to Raj Bhavan in Chandigarh and also submit a memorandum to the Punjab governor.

Similarly, farmers' unions in about 22 other states will take out marches to Raj Bhavan in their respective states and submit memorandums to the president. Similar marches to the offices of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha MPs of all political parties will be held from December 1 to 11.

The prominent leaders who attended the meeting were Joginder Singh Ugrahan, Darshan Pal and Harinder Singh Lakhowal.

Senior SKM leader and BKU (Lakhowal) General Secretary, Harinder Singh Lakhowal while accusing the government said, "It was one of the biggest demands of the farmers and the SKM had rejected the government's committee on it. We have not got justice yet in last year's Lakhimpur Kheri incident," he added.

Bengal rural polls: Murder, bombs bring back fear of violence

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

AS the state heads towards the panchayat elections, Opposition parties in West Bengal are fearing a re-run of the violence that erupted during the polls in 2018. The apprehensions have been triggered by a series of recent incidents, including recovery of crude bombs at various places and deaths of two persons, including a child, in the last 10 days.

On Thursday evening, the husband of a panchayat pradhan in Nadia district was gunned down in adjoining Murshidabad. Motirul Sheikh (49) was first shot and then stabbed at Naoda when he was returning home with his minor son riding pillion. Motirul's wife Meera said he died because of politics, and initially demanded CBI investigation into the incident. But later she requested for a probe by the state's Criminal Investigation Department.

A police complaint has been lodged against nine Trinamool Congress supporters. Sheikh's murder follows the death of a nine-year-old who lost her life last week when she picked up a crude bomb out of curiosity at the home of her maternal uncle, who is a TMC supporter, in North 24 Parganas district. Police arrested Abu Hussain Gayen for storing bombs in his house.

In another incident, a crude bomb exploded at the under-construction house of a TMC leader in North 24 Parganas. Bombs were also recovered from near a primary school in South 24 Parganas' Falta on Monday, which police suspect were stored for the purpose of using ahead or during the panchayat polls.

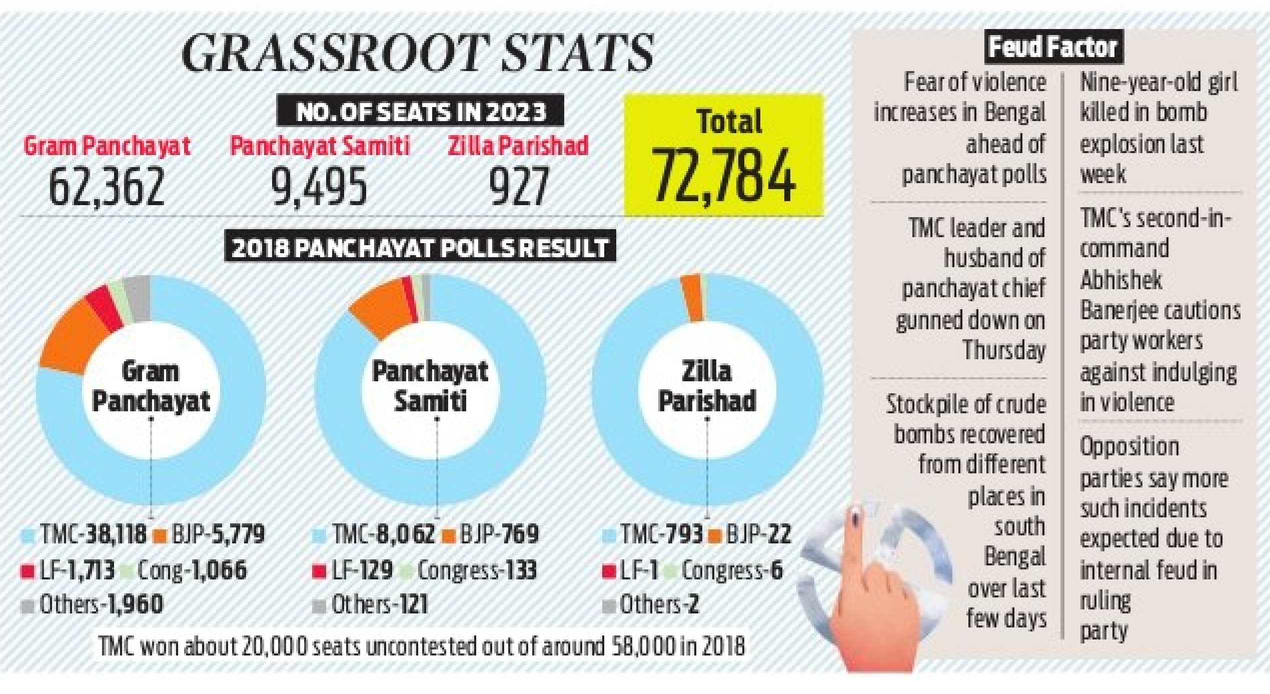
"The stockpiling of crude bombs is part of preparations for violence before the elections. This year, the ruling party will witness unprecedented intra-party feud over the issue of ticket distribution," state BJP president Sukanta Majumdar said. "Politics has become a medium of making money for them. In the previous rural polls, the ruling TMC cadres did not allow us to field candidates on thousands of seats. This time, too, they will exercise the same force, and we are ready to deal with it," he added.

CPM's central committee member Sujan Chakrabarty said Motirul's murder showed the internal rivalry in the ruling party. "More such incidents will take place before the panchayat polls. For the TMC, making money is the only target for getting elected," he said.

While holding a series of meetings with district leaders recently, TMC's second-in-command, Abhishek Banerjee, asked the cadre to refrain from using force.

"The party will not tolerate any strongarm tactics and use of violence to win the rural polls. If anyone violates the party's diktat, stern action will be taken," he said, asking the leaders to work as a team.

In 2018, the TMC won over 20,000 seats in the three-tier polls uncontested. The Supreme Court had then called the uncontested win in 30% seats "shocking".



TMC won about 20,000 seats uncontested out of around 58,000 in 2018

Feud Factor

- Fear of violence increases in Bengal ahead of panchayat polls
- TMC leader and husband of panchayat chief gunned down on Thursday
- Stockpile of crude bombs recovered from different places in south Bengal over last few days
- Nine-year-old girl killed in bomb explosion last week
- TMC's second-in-command Abhishek Banerjee cautions party workers against indulging in violence
- Opposition parties say more such incidents expected due to internal feud in ruling party

Dear Sir,

Sub: Notice issued under Section 13(2) of the Securitisation & Reconstruction of Financial Assets & Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002.

The undersigned being the Authorized Officer of Canara Bank, Basaveshwara Road Branch Bengaluru (hereinafter referred to as "the secured creditor"), appointed under the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002, (hereinafter referred as the "Act") do hereby issue this notice to you as under:

Sri H J RAJESH GOWDA and Smt MANGALA C (hereinafter referred to as "the Borrowers") have jointly availed credit facility / facilities stated in the Schedule A hereunder and have entered into the security agreement/s in favor of the secured creditor. While availing the said financial assistance, you have expressly undertaken to repay the loan amount/s in accordance with the terms and conditions of the above mentioned agreements.

That Mr Kangannahalli Bettaiah Ramesh (hereinafter referred to as "the Guarantor") has guaranteed the payment on demand of all moneys and discharge all obligations and liabilities owing or incurred to the secured creditor by the Borrower for credit facilities up to the limit of Rs. 1,65,00,000/- (Rupees One Crore Sixty Five Lakhs only) with interest thereon.

You (The person mentioned in schedule B) have also entered in to agreements against the secured assets which are detailed in Schedule B hereunder.

However, from 29/07/2022, the operation and conduct of the said financial assistance / credit facilities have become irregular. The books of account maintained by the secured creditor shows that the liability of the Borrower/s towards the secured creditor as on 31/10/2022 amounts to ₹2,07,70,492.30/- (Rupees Two Crore Seven Lakh Seventy Thousand Four Hundred Ninety Two and Thirty Pisa only) the details of which together with future interest rate are stated in Schedule C hereunder. It is further stated that the Borrowers/Guarantor personal guarantor Mr Kangannahalli Bettaiah Ramesh having failed to keep up with the terms of the above said agreement in clearing the dues of the secured creditor within the time given, and have been evasive in settling the dues. The operation and conduct of the above said financial assistance / credit facility/ies having come to a standstill and as a consequence of the default committed in repayment of principal debt/ instalment and interest thereon, the secured creditor was constrained to classify the debt as Non Performing Asset (NPA) as on 29/10/2022 in accordance with the directives/guidelines relating to asset classification issued by the Reserve Bank of India.

The secured creditor through this notice brings to your attention that the Borrowers have failed and neglected to repay the said dues/ outstanding liabilities and hence hereby demand you under Section 13(2) of the Act, by issuing this notice to discharge in full the liabilities of the borrowers as stated in Schedule C hereunder to the secured creditor within 60 days from the date of receipt of this notice. Further, it is brought to your notice that you are also liable to pay future interest at the rate of 2% respectively, penal interest per year together with all costs, charges, expenses and incidental expenses with respect to the proceedings undertaken by the secured creditor in recovering its dues.

Please take note of the fact that if you fail to repay to the secured creditor the aforesaid sum of ₹2,07,70,492.30/- (Rupees Two Crore Seven Lakh Seventy Thousand Four Hundred Ninety Two and Thirty Pisa only) together with further interest and incidental expenses and costs as stated above in terms of this notice under Section 13(2) of the Act, the secured creditor will exercise all or any of the rights detailed under sub-section (4)(a) and (b) of Section 13, the extract of which is given here below to convey the seriousness of this issue:

13(4)- In case the Borrowers/Guarantor personal guarantor Mr Kangannahalli Bettaiah Ramesh fails to discharge liability in full within the period specified in sub-section (2), the secured creditor may take recourse to one or more of the following measures to recover his secured debt, namely;

(a) Take possession of the secured assets of the Borrower/Guarantor including the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale for realizing the secured asset;

(b) Take over the management of the business of the Borrower including the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale for realizing the secured asset:

Provided that the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale shall be exercised only where the substantial part of the business of the Borrower is held as security for the debt;

Provided further that where the management of whole of the business or part of the business is severable, the secured creditor shall take over the management of such business of the borrower which is relatable to the security for the debt;

And under other applicable provisions of the said Act.

Your attention is invited to provisions of sub-section (8) of Section 13 of the Act, in respect of time available, to redeem the secured assets.

You are also put on notice that in terms of section 13(13) the Borrower/Guarantor shall not transfer by way of sale, lease or otherwise the said secured assets detailed in Schedule B hereunder without obtaining written consent of the secured creditor. It is further brought to your notice that any contravention of this statutory injunction/ restraint, as provided under the said Act, is an offence and if for any reason, the secured assets are sold or leased out in the ordinary course of business, the sale proceeds or income realized shall be deposited with the secured creditor. In this regard you shall have to render proper accounts of such realization / income.

This notice of Demand is without prejudice to and shall not be construed as waiver of any other rights or remedies which the secured creditor may have including further demands for the sums found due and payable by you.

This is without prejudice to any other rights available to the secured creditor under the Act and/or any other law in force.

Please comply with the demand under this notice and avoid all unpleasantness. In case of Non-compliance, further needful action will be resorted to, holding you liable for all costs and consequence.

Adani Ent plans to raise ₹20K crore

This is biggest FPO so far, bigger than YES Bank's ₹15,000 crore fundraise in July 2020

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

TO fuel ambitious expansion plans, billionaire Gautam Adani's flagship Adani Enterprises ldt (AEL) is seeking to raise ₹20,000 via a follow-on public offering (FPO). This will be the country's largest FPO, beating the July 2020 FPO of YES Bank when it had raised Rs 15,000 crore.

This FPO exercise comes after a rise of over 1,800% in the stock price of Adani Enterprises in the last three years. This also comes at a time when the Ahmedabad-based port-to-power conglomerate as a whole is drawing attention of being overleveraged and highly debt funded. The face value of each share in the FPO would be ₹1, as per AEL regulatory filing.

A follow-on public offer is a way by which listed entities issue shares to the public to diversify their shareholding. The FPO by Adani Enterprises, last valued at ₹4.45 lakh crore, will increase its public float as more numbers of shares will be available for trading on exchanges.

The company's public float was at 27.37% while the promoter holding stood at 72.63% at the end of the September quarter this fiscal. In comparison, rival billionaire Mukesh Ambanai's Reliance (RIL) had a public float 49.43% while promoter's shareholding stood at 50.57% as of September end.

Like RIL, which raised over $27 billion in 2020 by selling stake to Facebook (now Meta) and Google's parent, Alphabet Inc, it is widely reported that Adani is also scouting for big names to fund parts of future projects via stake sale.

The fundraising would improve AEL's debt ratios, broaden investor base and increase stock liquidity. Headed by Asia richest billionaire Gautam Adani, the Group was recently termed as "deeply overleveraged" by CreditSights. Adani Group's combined gross debt reached a new high of ₹2.22 lakh crore at the end of FY21-22, up 42% from ₹1.57 lakh crore a year ago. Raising concerns on Adani's expansion plans, the Fitch Group unit in August had said that in the worst-case scenario, overly ambitious debt-funded growth plans could eventually spiral into a massive debt trap, and possibly culminate into a distressed situation or default of one or more group companies.

Want NDTV to become global news brand, says billionaire Gautam Adani

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATING reasons on the hostile takeover of news media outlet NDTV, billionaire Gautam Adani, Chairman of the Adani Group, said he wants to build a global news brand as India doesn't have a single media outlet compared to big international media houses such as Financial Times or Al Jazeera.

In an interview to Financial Times, Adani, now worth $136 billion, said buying NDTV is a responsibility rather than a business opportunity for him. The billionaire said he has invited NDTV owner-founder Prannoy Roy to remain its head. Dismissing criticism that the hostile takeover is done to curb voice that are critical of the current regime, Adani, who shares close proximity with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, questioned, "Why can't you support one media house to become independent and have a global footprint?" He added,"Independence means if the government has done something wrong, you say it's wrong. At the same time, you should have courage when the government is doing the right thing every day. You have to say that."

Adani's exercise to takeover NDTV is in its final stage. The open offer by Adanis for acquiring additional 26% equity in NDTV continues to see steady inflow. As of Friday, a total of 39.35 lakh equity shares, representing 23.48% of the maximum offer size of nearly 1.68 crore equity shares were tendered.

The offer price/floor price has been kept at ₹294 and would end on December 5. If the total equity base of NDTV is taken into account, the cumulative shares tendered in the open offer accounts for 6.10% stake of the listed media outlet. The surrender of shares by existing shareholders comes even as the current share price of NDTV commands a premium of over 30% when compared with the open offer price. On Friday, shares of NDTV gained 5% to close the session at ₹386.80. The open offer, which got delayed, was triggered after Adani Group indirectly bought a stake of 29.18% in NDTV by acquiring shares of Vishvapradhan Commercial Private Ltd, which, in turn, owned shares held by RRPR Holding Private Ltd, a promoter group company of NDTV.

Adani's open offer for NDTV shares

As of Friday, NDTV shareholders had offered 23.48% of shares to the Adani Group under the ongoing open offer

PhonePe to acquire ZestMoney for $200-300 mn

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

WALMART-BACKED digital payments company PhonePe is all set to acquire buy now, pay later (BNPL) company ZestMoney in a deal pegged at $200 million- $300 million, according to sources.

"The talks are on and it will be finalised in another 3-4 weeks," the sources said.

After the acquisition, ZestMoney will continue to operate as a separate entity. ZestMoney, which was founded in 2015 by Lizzie Chapman, Priya Sharma and Ashish Anantharaman, is the fastest growing consumer lending fintech company.

It is said to be the largest omnichannel BNPL platform with over 17 million registered users across the country. It has the largest network of merchants with over 10,000 online partners including Amazon, Flipkart, MakeMyTrip and Nykaa, among others. It is also present at over 75,000 offline stores.

With this acquisition, PhonePe will strengthen its lending services. ZestMoney disburses around ₹400 crore a month in lending. The fintech company was last valued at $470 million, and so far, it has raised $140 million. In the Series C round, it raised around $70 million.

According to sources, the fintech company has reduced burn rate and will turn profitable next month. PhonePe has over 41.5 crore registered users, and it forayed into financial services in 2017. It recently moved domicile from Singapore to India. PhonePe has seen a revenue growth of 138%, with revenues at ₹1,646 crore in FY21-22.

MFs asked to reduce time for payment of dividend

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE capital market regulator – Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) – has asked the mutual fund industry to reduce the time taken to transfer dividend and redemption payments to unit holders.

In a circular issued on Friday, the Sebi has directed the mutual fund houses to make the payment of dividend to the unit holders within seven working days from the record date against the existing 15 days.

The record date, as per the new circular, should be two working days from the issue of public notice for the purpose of payment of dividend.

Similarly, Sebi has directed mutual funds to transfer redemption or repurchase proceeds to the unit holders within three working days from the date of redemption or repurchase. Currently, the payment is received within 10 days of redemption. However, schemes which invest at least 80% of total assets in permissible overseas instruments, the transfer of redemption or repurchase proceeds to the unit holders should be made within five working days. In case of any delay, the investor must be paid an interest at 15% per annum along with the proceeds of redemption or repurchase or dividend. The Sebi circular has also asked the fund industry to prepare a list of exceptional circumstances for schemes unable to transfer redemption or repurchase proceeds to investors within the stipulated time. Meanwhile, Sebi has prepared a framework to deal with technical glitches in the electronic trading platforms of stock brokers. The new framework requires brokers to maintain at least a capacity of 1.5 times the peak load.

States ask for more funds in pre-budget meet with FM

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

RUN-UP TO BUDGET

STATES in their pre-budget meet on Friday raised the long-standing issue of cesses and surcharges with finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman.

According to them, the share of central surcharges of cesses have increased from nearly 10% to 20% of the gross tax revenue over the last decade, which in consequence has reduced the share of states from the divisible pool as a percentage of the Union government's GTR. As per Kerala finance minister KN Balagopal, "Currently, share of divisible pool is less than 30% of GTR when 15th Finance Commission has recommended 41% of the net proceeds be distributed to the states." Meanwhile, Tamil Nadu finance minister P Thiaga Rajan said with the increase in divisible pool of Centre's share in taxes, states' share in centrally sponsored schemes should be revisited so that the financial burden on states' exchequer could be decreased. Kerala Minister, among others, echoed the same observation. They demanded flexibility in terms of implementing these schemes. In addition, Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel demanded releasing of funds to execute the old pension scheme for state government employees. He also asked for enhancing royalty for minerals extracted in the state and the fixing different royalties on different grades of coal and iron ore. He also made the case for continuing the GST compensation grant for the next five years after June 2022. He also suggested "the borrowing limit of the states is fixed at 4% at least for the next two financial years of 15th Finance Commission Awar period for the next twoyears 2023-24 and 2024-25. He said liking part of additional borrowing limit with capital expenditure can be considered. Also, states demanded increase in allocation of capital assistance to them depending upon the size and population of states.

'Central cesses gone up, states' share came down'

States say share of central surcharges of cesses have gone up from nearly 10% to 20% of the gross tax revenue over the last decade, which in consequence has reduced the share of states from the divisible pool as a percentage of the Union government's GTR

Natural gas tariff, authorisation, capacity regulations amended

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a bid to strengthen the natural gas infrastructure and usher in rapid growth of its market in the country, the Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulatory Board (PNGRB) on Friday has made amendments in three regulations namely Natural Gas Pipeline Tariff, Authorisation and Capacity Regulations.

The petroleum ministry said these amendments will act as stepping stones for implementation of unified tariff regulations which will be effective from April 1, 2023. "To address the settlement issues for implementation of unified tariff, an industry committee has been constituted," said the ministry in a statement.

Amazon to shut food delivery biz in India

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

A day after announcing that it will shut down online learning platform 'Amazon Academy' in India, the ecommerce company Amazon on Friday said it will discontinue its pilot food delivery business Amazon Food in Bengaluru.

It was launched in May 2020, it partnered with restaurants, and expanded the service in Bengaluru.

Amazon in a statement said, "At Amazon, we're always experimenting and investing in new ideas to delight our customers. We also continually evaluate the progress and potential of our products and services to deliver customer value, and we regularly make adjustments based on those assessments."

"As part of our annual operating planning review process, we have made the decision to discontinue Amazon Food, our pilot food delivery business in Bengaluru. We don't take these decisions lightly. We are discontinuing these programs in a phased manner to take care of current customers and partners and we are supporting our affected employees during this transition," the statement added. It said the company will continue to invest across those areas where they can bring value to customers including grocery, smartphones, consumer electronics, Fashion & Beauty, and its B2B offerings such as Amazon Business.

Meanwhile, Amazon has told authorities in the labour ministry that the programme is a voluntary separation, and that they did not compel any employees to resign, according to sources familiar with the development. Acting on the complaint by IT employee's union Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES) about the alleged layoffs in Amazon, the labour ministry called Amazon and NITES for the joint discussion on November 23.

Food delivery business launched in May 2020

Amazon's pilot food delivery business was launched in May 2020, it partnered with restaurants, and expanded the service in Bengaluru. Amazon in a statement said, "At Amazon, we're always experimenting and investing in new ideas to delight our customers."

It is said that the ecommerce giant has provided a statement saying that the programme was voluntary. Sources said there was no formal complaint from any employees regarding layoffs. The ecommerce giant also told the labour ministry about severance packages that they are offering to employees under the voluntary separation programme (VSP). Harpeet Singh Saluja, president, NITES, asked, "If it is voluntary, why has the company given a deadline to its employees."

CHINA

BANKS PLEDGE $162 BN IN CREDIT TO DEVELOPERS

China stocks rose on Friday, boosted by property developers after the country's latest measures to support the beleaguered sector, while Hong Kong shares were dragged down by tech firms as China reported record-high new COVID-19 cases. The blue-chip CSI 300 Index rose 0.5% at close, while the Shanghai Composite Index added 0.4%. However, Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index finished down 0.5%, while Hang Seng China Enterprises Index fell 0.4%. China's biggest commercial banks have pledged $162 billion in fresh credit to developers, bolstering recent regulatory measures rolled out to ease a stifling cash crunch in the sector and lifting property shares. Meanwhile, sources told Reuters China's central bank will offer cheap loans to financial firms for buying bonds issued by property developers, the strongest policy support yet for the crisis-hit sector. Chinese realty developers jumped 6.8%, and banks gained 2.3%. Hong Kong-listed mainland property developers surged 4.5%. Shares of Chinese state-owned enterprises (SOEs) also shone, as investors heed regulators' call to build a market valuation system "with Chinese characteristics".

SINGAPORE

FINANCIAL VULNERABILITY CLIMBS: MAS

Singaporean households, corporates and banks have seen an increase in financial vulnerability this year, the city-state's central bank said on Friday, warning people to be prudent about taking on more mortgage debt.The higher vulnerability was mostly due to the unwinding of pandemic-related precautionary buffers, the Monetary Authority of Singapore said in its annual financial stability review.However, the central bank's stress test showed corporates and households were 'resilient to macrofinancial shocks', while banks hold strong capital positions.The central bank noted, however, that households – especially those in lower-income groups – should be prudent when committing to mortgage loans, given financial conditions were expected to tighten further in coming quarters. It said housing loans remained the key driver of a rise in household debt, contributing 2.7% to the overall 3.1% year-on-year growth in the third quarter of 2022. Loan-to-value ratios have fallen to 43% in Q3, 2022 from 54% in 2017, and just 30 units were foreclosed this year.

JAPAN

PROPOSES EXPANDING TAX-FREE INVESTMENT SCHEME

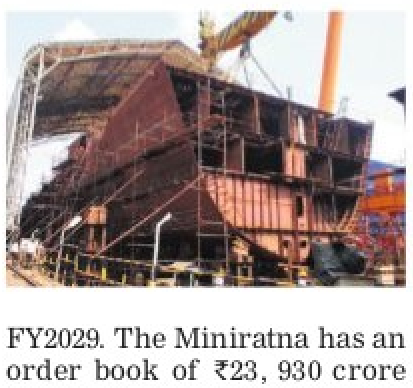
Japanese government on Friday called for doubling a tax-free stock investment programme for households, to encourage savers to put more money in riskier assets rather than hoarding it only in cash and savings accounts. The proposed changes to the Nippon Individual Saving Account (NISA) programme aim to double the number of accounts to 34 million and the amount of investment to $404 billion over the next five years. Under the current scheme, holders can only invest up to $8,600 annually in stocks and investment trusts. The accounts offer a five-year tax exemption on returns. The programme is part of Prime Minister Fumio Kishida's "new capitalism" scheme to boost average household wealth and asset holdings. Japanese households hold more than half of their 2,000 trillion yen in financial assets as cash and in savings accounts. But while those assets have risen only 40% over the last 20 years, in the US and Britain, financial assets have risen by 3.4 times and 2.3 times, respectively, from 20 years ago.

GRSE partners L&T shipyard for building warship parts

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PUBLIC sector undertaking Garden Reach Shipbuilders and Engineers (GRSE) is partnering with the Larsen and Turbro shipyard at Kattupalli for part building of warships.

Part construction of warships is to facilitate faster production of ships as the demand from two major clients - Indian Navy and the Coast Guard is increasing. Both the Navy and Coast intend to increase its fleet size by more than 200 by 2027 and we bridge this gap from existing scenarios to what they are looking forward to said commodore PR Hari, Chairman and Managing Director of GRSE. While the design, project management and equipment procurement is taken up by the shipyard, the construction is concurrently carried out to increase the shipbuilding capabilities, he added. It also engages with other private players in its headquarters - Kolkata. The order book of GRSE remains packed till financial year 2027 and it expects few more orders in the pipeline which would last up to FY2029. The Miniratna has an order book of ₹23, 930 crore that includes building 15 warships for the Indian Navy. The shipyard is also experimenting with the green energy segment with an order from the West Bengal government for building an electric vessel with the capacity to carry nearly 150 passengers. GRSE is looking at building destroyers for Navy, defence exports, mainly to the neighbouring countries.



'Licencing for OTTs will be threat to start-ups'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BRINGING over-the-top (OTT) players like WhatsApp, Signal, Google Meet and Telegram under licensing ambit will create existential threat to start-up ecosystem, said the Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) on Friday.

The association, which represents start-ups and technology companies, said these changes would only establish additional sources of revenues for well-established sectors (telecom sector) while leaving the start-up ecosystem vulnerable to compliance costs. IAMAI, in its letter to the (Department of Telecommunication), expressed concern about the impact of these changes on India's start-up ecosystem and digital economy.

"Creating room for licencing provisions applicable to OTT service providers presents an existential threat to India's start-up ecosystem by creating herculean barriers to entry," said IAMAI in a statement. Telcos have been raising demand to regulate OTT players every now and then. Their demand got strengthened following the introduction of Draft Telecom Bill, which proposes all internet calling and messaging apps to comply with the Know Your Customer (KYC) provisions when they come under the telecom regulation ambit. The Cellular Operator Association of India(COAI) advocated to bring OTT players under licencing ambit citing a level-playing field. COAI suggested OTT communication service providers can pay directly to the telcos for use of their networks for providing services. Broadband India Forum; which counts tech firms like TCS, Cisco, Amazon, Google, Microsoft; said regulating OTT players could hurt startups ecosystem and innovation.

"Not only this would mean aspiring start-ups, which are still evolving and developing their business and monetisation models, will risk massive compliance costs in their infancy, but also would mean that foreign investors bullish on Indian start-ups may experience a chilling effect owing to the drastic policy uncertainty," said IAMAI.

It's now or never for Messi & Co

STEVE DOUGLAS @Doha

A chant has been doing the rounds among Saudi Arabia supporters — and even some from Brazil — in the fan parks and streets of Doha at the World Cup. "Where is Messi? We broke his eye!" they sing in Arabic, using a slang expression meaning to bring shame on a person.

Messi and his Argentina team are being mocked after a humbling 2-1 loss to Saudi Arabia that has left their presence at the tournament in big — and completely unforeseen — danger. Argentina need to immediately bounce back against Mexico on Saturday, otherwise an embarrassing early exit awaits. "We always said we were going to look to win every game," Messi said, "and now more than ever."

A compatriot — indeed the team's former coach — could mastermind the fatal blow to Argentina. Gerardo Martino led his native Argentina from 2014-16, losing the Copa America final in back-to-back years in that time before quitting. Now Martino is Mexico's coach and looking to guide the team into the last 16 — perhaps at the expense of Argentina — and beyond. After all, Mexico has famously lost its first match of the knockout stage in each of the last seven World Cups, twice to Argentina, in 2006 and 2010. Here the teams' meeting comes in the group stage.

This is Lionel Scaloni's first crisis as Argentina coach — he hadn't lost a game before the Saudis' rally at Lusail Stadium on Tuesday — and it remains to be seen how he reacts. Will he give the same players a chance to make amends? Or did he see enough bad things in the opening group game to necessitate some changes to his lineup?

Center back Cristian Romero, full backs Nahuel Molina and Nicolás Tagliafico, and midfielders Rodrigo De Paul and Leandro Paredes seem most at risk. Of course, Messi is going nowhere from the starting lineup, even if he could be deployed differently.

Scaloni is sure about one thing, though. "We will not change our style after what happened on Tuesday," Scaloni said on Friday. "We will play the same way."

Argentina's 36-match unbeaten run ended with the loss to Saudi Arabia, and Scaloni said he was prepared for it.

"For a long time, everything was perfect for us. Everything was joy," he said. "I was the first to be ready for that blow ... It would have been great to continue on that streak but that's not possible.

"Luckily enough, that came in our first match. What's important for us is facing every match like it's our last one. A match can be lost but it's how you bounce back, how you rise up."

Early exit for Qatar as Ecuador hold Dutch 1-1

AFP @ Doha

HOST nation Qatar were eliminated from the World Cup on Friday with one Group A game still to play after Ecuador held the Netherlands to a 1-1 draw. Qatar had earlier gone down to a second successive defeat in the tournament, losing 3-1 to Senegal meaning they needed Ecuador to beat the Dutch in order to stay in contention.

Goals either side of half-time from Boulaye Dia and Famara Diedhiou gave Senegal the lead before Qatar substitute Mohammed Muntari replied in the 78th minute to set up a dramatic finale.

Senegal substitute Bamba Dieng scored six minutes later to put the result beyond doubt and lift the African champions, who opened with a 2-0 loss to the Netherlands, right back into contention in Group A. Defeat left bottom side Qatar sweating on results elsewhere if they are to avoid following South Africa in 2010 as only the second World Cup hosts to bow out after the first round. "Today we showed what we are able to do. We were competitive and we played well," said Qatar manager Felix Sanchez.

"Obviously the result is key but we showed a better performance. We have to get ready to play against the Netherlands." Results: Qatar 1-3 Senegal, Netherlands 1-1 Ecuador.

MATCH POINT

It's already last chance saloon for Argentina. Opponents Mexico know a draw won't be a disaster going into the final game of the group stage. A look...

ARGENTINA WON'T PANIC

They came here on the back of a 36-match unbeaten run. But thanks to two moments of individual brilliance, they are on the brink of not even qualifying. The thing, though, is this team doesn't panic. They will point to the processes and retain faith in the system that made them favourites.

CHANGE IN PERSONNEL

There could some changes, including the likelihood of starting the more combative Lisandro Martinez at the back. There could also be a start for Enzo Fernandez, a playmaker capable of operating at a very high technical level. He is capable of driving the ball into the forward lines or giving the ball quickly to the likes of Messi and Lautaro Martinez.

START FOR JIMENEZ

Forward Raul Jimenez could be in for a start after coming through unscathed against Poland. Mexico rely on him for goals and he could be the man to deliver it for them. He likes a physical battle but, worryingly, has not rediscovered his touch following a head injury a few years ago.

DIFFERENT KIND OF GAME

Saudi Arabia played a high-intensity game reliant on energy. Mexico will have a low block, soak up pressure and not go in for challenges in the middle third of the pitch. So this could be a different kind of game. The key, then, is to win the midfield battle and get the full-back high up from an Argentina perspective.

Lukaku eyes Belgium return

SALWA BEACH: Romelu Lukaku trained on Friday ahead of Belgium's World Cup match against Morocco after missing their tournament opener in Qatar with a thigh injury. The forward has played 90 minutes just once this season and his last appearance came for his club Inter Milan on October 29. Lukaku missed Belgium's 1-0 win over Canada in Group F but trained with his teammates ahead of Sunday's match.

Over half the record of 0-0 draws

DOHA: The 0-0 draw between Uruguay and South Korea on Thursday was the fourth scoreless game of this year's World Cup — already more than half the tournament record through the first set of matches. The record for scoreless draws in the World Cup is seven, done four times, in 1982, 2006, 2010 and 2014. The 2018 tournament in Russia had only one 0-0 draw, between Denmark and France. Before the start in Qatar, the World Cup averaged more than two goals per game.

Maradona remembered

DOHA: Argentina football greats on Friday set off a day of World Cup tributes to the "immortal" Diego Maradona on the second anniversary of his death. Fans unfurled Maradona flags on Doha's seafront and gathered at a South American confederation ceremony alongside former players including Argentina World Cup winners Mario Kempes and Alberto Tarantini. Maradona died of a heart attack on November 25, 2020 at the age of 60, setting off a wave of deep mourning across the football world.

Richarlison lit up the World Cup with a memorable volley goal against Serbia on Thursday | AFP

Known for his determination & no-nonsense approach on the field, forward's double lifts football-mad nation Brazil

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

THERE is a story from a few years ago that accurately captures the very essence of Richarlison de Andrade. During his days at Watford in the Premier League, he was subbed off with 25 minutes remaining on the clock. The then 20-year-old, who had opened the scoring against Chelsea that night, was moved to tears. After the match (Watford beat Chelsea 4-1), he explained the reason. "I was crying because I wanted to play and help my teammates, but in the end the guy (Roberto Pereyra) that entered the pitch did the job well so it's all okay," he had explained. It's something he has brought to the Brazil team. An undying fire, a passion, to play. That passion and fire also reduced him to tears after picking up a calf injury while playing for Tottenham in October. "Even walking hurts," he had summed up.

Forget walking. On Thursday night against Serbia, Richarlison hung himself in air for a fraction of a second, before bringing down his right foot to volley the ball into the bottom corner. It was a goal that sang Brazil, the hedonism evident in the way the forward controlled and lifted the ball in one movement using just his toes on the left foot before using it as a pivot while scissoring the ball home with his other foot.

At some level, Richarlison's brace was ironical. There was a clamour to start Gabriel Jesus as the N0 9 with Richarlison on the bench. Jesus had moved to Arsenal to play as the central striker and had begun the season well. Richarlison, too, swapped homes, moving from Everton to Tottenham but he was going through a proper bedding in period.

But coach, Tite, knew what he was doing. While the likes of Neymar, Raphinha, Vinicius Junior and the substitutes Jesus and Antony among others, like to dribble or like playing the final pass before the finish or want to take part in the build-up play, Richarlison is happy to be economical with his touches and passes. In a sense, his true value was his first goal. Ghosting in behind the defender to score a goal from close range. The numbers explain this better. He had 25 touches, 12 accurate passes (only two in the final third) but was the main man. The passion that he brings to the yellow jersey is something that can't be quantified (this is not to say some of his teammates lack this) but he's always up for the fight.

It is also poetic justice Richarlison scored both the goals. At the most political of World Cups, Brazil aren't just attempting to win it for a sixth time. Their mission in Qatar is more fundamental: to reclaim the ironic yellow jersey that had been appropriated by the country's far-right president, Jair Bolsanaro. He made the yellow jersey a centre part of his divisive presidency. It fractured an entire nation and left the national team susceptible to cliques (few players, including Neymar, openly backed Bolsanaro including at the recently held national elections).

What role did Richarlison play? He became one of the first Premier League players to promote the importance of vaccines in the fight against Covid-19. He has railed against the rise of fake news and conspiracy theories (two of those were found in abundance in Brazil during Bolsanaro's reign). He has even vowed to donate any of the World Cup winnings to causes close to his heart.

To understand why Richarlison cares about social causes or from where he got this passion from, there's another story. He narrated it himself in for a piece for The Players Tribune. He grew up in Nova Venecia in Espirito Santo, a state in south-eastern Brazil. The gist was this.

He had done odd jobs growing up. Selling ice pops. Farming. Washing cars. All by the age of 15. One time, when returning from a game of football, his friends and him were mistaken for drug sellers. Guns were pointed. "In any case, after all my experiences in Nova Venecia, I realised I had no choice," he wrote in November 2020. "I wanted nothing to do with drugs. I wasn't a farmer. Selling ice pops wasn't my thing. And I sure as hell wasn't gonna go back to the car wash. I couldn't see myself doing anything other than playing football."

Football became his life. Didier Drogba, Zlatan Ibrahimovic and Neymar jerseys adorned his cupboard.

On Thursday, he scored like them.

Giroud-Mbappe combo in spotlight

JEROME PUGMIRE @ Doha

OLIVIER Giroud will overtake Thierry Henry to become France's all-time leading scorer with 52 goals if he scores against Denmark at the World Cup on Saturday. If Kylian Mbappe finds the net he will move level with another France great. A victory against the Danes at Stadium 974 will also qualify Les Bleus for the knockout round, and as group winners if Tunisia and Australia draw in the other Group D game.

So there's plenty to look forward to, although France captain Hugo Lloris is still striking a cautious note. "If you look too far ahead in a competition that's when you can stumble. There's a big mountain for us to climb tomorrow," Lloris said Friday. "It will be a battle; the fact the Danes drew against Tunisia means they need to win."

Giroud and Mbappe looked sharp together and both scored in Tuesday's 4-1 win against Australia. Another goal for Mbappe would bring his tally to 30 for France.

That would move him level with Just Fontaine, whose 13 goals at the 1958 World Cup remains a tournament record. In those days players were not earning massive salaries or endorsements, so Fontaine's prize for leading scorer in Sweden was a hunter's rifle.

It was an appropriate reward for such a ruthless sharpshooter, who scored his 30 in just 21 games before his career was wrecked by a knee injury. So Giroud and Mbappe are in illustrious company, and they're doing well together. Mbappe scored one goal and set up Giroud's second against Australia.

Denmark coach Kasper Hjulmand was asked if he fears Mbappe. "I don't think it's good to be frightened of anything. We have no plans to stop him," Hjulmand joked, before adding. "Of course we do. When we played him in Copenhagen we had a structure in place, but he still had great chances to score. Whatever you do, you can't keep a top player like that down."

The Giroud-Mbappe partnership is significant for the goals but also because for a long time they were considered incompatible. Mbappe was more at ease alongside Karim Benzema, who took Giroud's place at last year's European Championship, while Giroud struck up a good partnership with Antoine Griezmann at Euro 2016 and the last World Cup. AP

TODAY'S MATCHES

TUNISIA vs AUSTRALIA

WC BEGINS NOW FOR AUSTRALIA

It's not churlish to suggest the World Cup begins now for the Socceroos. They had a bit of a free hit against France and they played like that where they were pulled apart from Kylian Mbappe.

MORE OF THE SAME

After holding the more fancied Danes, Tunisia will eye this game as a possible three-pointer before their toughest game. They will be compact in defence but could show just that bit more aggression in their play.

POLAND vs SAUDI ARABIA

PLEASE STAND UP

Robert Lewandowski could go down as one of the best forwards never to net a World Cup. He missed a penalty in the opening match day as the team laboured to a draw. They will have more of the ball, time to do something with it.

EYES ON AL-DAWSARI

It will go down as one of the moments of the events, Al Dawsari plucking the ball out of air, controlling it, dancing with it before finding the net. Can he repeat those heroics? If he can, the sea of Green in the stands will be singing long into the night.

FRANCE vs DENMARK

GIROUD ON CUSP OF HISTORY

So what if there's no Karim Benzema. The main support act, Olivier Giroud, netted two goals to become the joint leading scorer in France history. He's so economical with his movement that you won't bet against him finding the net again.

FOCUS ON DEFENCE

The Danes got off to a slow start against Tunisia but were thwarted in the second half. This match will take on a different complexion as they won't have more of the ball. They will soak up pressure before looking to hurt them on the break.

Injured Neymar to miss Brazil's next match

AP @ Doha

NEYMAR will miss Brazil's second World Cup match but will remain with the squad undergoing treatment for his ankle injury, the team doctor said Friday.

Rodrigo Lasmar said tests conducted on his right ankle showed that Neymar has a ligament injury and will not be fit to play against Switzerland on Monday. "It's important to remain calm, an evaluation will be conducted daily so we can have more information and take the most appropriate decisions," Lasmar said, adding that the goal is to have him recover in time to still play in the tournament.

Lasmar did not give a timetable for Neymar's recovery. He said the situation of defender Danilo, who has a left ankle injury, was similar to Neymar's and he would also miss the game against Switzerland. Neymar was receiving treatment at the team's hotel Friday after getting injured in the 2-0 win against Serbia in Brazil's opener.

The Paris Saint-Germain striker sprained his ankle in the second half of a bruising match against Serbia on Thursday. He was in tears while sitting on the bench with ice around his ankle and limped off the field on his way to the locker room. "Difficult game, but it was important to win," Neymar said on his social media accounts not long after he left Lusail Stadium without talking to the media. "Congratulations team, first step taken. Six more to go."

In an Instagram story, Neymar posted a text that mentioned the need to 'have faith'.

ISL: Mumbai City FC go top of table

Ahmed Jahouh, Bipin Singh, and Jorge Diaz got their names on the scoresheet for the Islanders, while Parthib Gogoi scored his first goal for NorthEast United FC.

FOR IRAN, ALL IS WALES

Team Melli hit the net twice in final minutes of injury time to register an incredible win

PETER STEBBINGS @Doha

Iran team celebrate their opening goal against Wales in Doha on Friday | AP

IRAN scored twice deep in stoppage time to stun Wales 2-0 on Friday and breathe new life into a World Cup campaign overshadowed by mass anti-government protests at home.

Iran's players sang the national anthem before the Group B clash, having opted not to in their opener in Qatar, and were worthy winners against a Wales side reduced to 10 men when goalkeeper Wayne Hennessey received the first red card of the World Cup. Iran, who would have been eliminated with defeat, then punished Gareth Bale's Wales in the eighth minute of injury time through substitute Rouzbeh Cheshmi's powerful drive.

The Iranians sent their thousands of fans at the Ahmad Bin Ali Stadium wild when Ramin Rezaeian clipped in a second goal on the counter-attack. There were emotional scene as Iran's players and staff, including their Portuguese coach Carlos Queiroz, embraced on the pitch and took in the acclaim of their supporters. Mehdi Taremi, the team's star striker, paid tribute to Iran's fans afterwards. "Thank you to our supporters, they helped us all the time," said Taremi. "We need those supporters to support us like always," added Taremi, whose side will reach the last 16 if they win against the United States on Tuesday. "Even those who are in Iran behind their TV, we need their positive energy. We have a dream and we want to give that dream a chance."

Iran were thumped 6-2 by England in their opening match and beforehand had stood impassively during their national anthem in an apparent gesture of solidarity with anti-government protesters in the Islamic republic.

Iran has been shaken by two months of nationwide protests since the death of Mahsa Amini in morality police custody on September 16. Amini, a 22-year-old Iranian of Kurdish origin, died three days after her arrest in Tehran over an alleged breach of the dress code for women, which includes the mandatory hijab headscarf. An AFP photographer at the stadium on Friday witnessed security staff confiscating a flag from a fan with the protest slogan "Woman, Life, Freedom". Some Iranian fans were in tears during the singing of the anthem.

Can't cry about defeat: Page

Rob Page said his Wales team could not "sit and cry about" their agonising defeat with a clash against neighbours England to come. "We can't sit and cry about it," said Page. "We've got an opportunity to put it right. "Thankfully the game is just around the corner so we can go out and give our supporters something to cheer about." AFP

Would back bids for Man Utd, Liverpool: Saudi sports minister

Portugal's Cristiano Ronaldo left PL club Manchester United earlier this week | AFP

AGENCIES @Doha

SAUDI Arabia would back private bids for Manchester United or Liverpool, its sports minister said, adding that the conservative kingdom was keen to host the World Cup. Prince Abdulaziz bin Turki Al-Faisal even said the Gulf state could be a new home for clubless superstar Cristiano Ronaldo.

Prince Abdulaziz said oil-wealthy Saudi Arabia, which has been on a buying spree of sports assets, would "definitely support" bids for the English Premier League giants, whose owners are canvassing investors. "From the private sector, I can't speak on their behalf, but there is a lot of interest and appetite and there's a lot of passion about football," he told the BBC.

"We will definitely support it if any private sector comes in, because we know that's going to reflect positively on sports within the kingdom," Prince Abdulaziz added. "But if there's an investor willing to do so and the numbers add up, why not?"

Saudi Arabia, much criticised by activists for its human rights record, last year snapped up England's perennial under-achievers Newcastle, who are now third in the Premier League. Manchester United's American owners stunned fans this week by revealing they would consider selling the club — just hours after announcing the departure of Ronaldo, 37.

Liverpool's owners, also American, have said they are open to new shareholders but stopped short of confirming reports the club is up for sale.

After Ronaldo told British TV that he had rejected a huge offer to join a Saudi club, Prince Abdulaziz said: "Anything is possible, I would love to see Ronaldo play in the Saudi league."

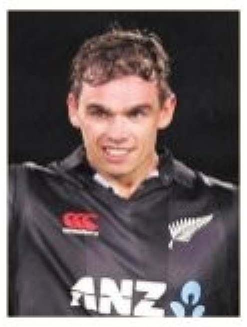
Latham smashes ton as NZ outplay India at Eden Park

GOMESH S @Chennai

THE format is different. Some players are different. And the focus for the series is different with a home World Cup ahead. And yet, Indian cricket's favourite word — intent — came to the fore as the men in blue suffered a seven-wicket defeat against New Zealand in the first ODI at Eden Park, Auckland on Friday.



That they scored 306/7 runs despite being 160/4 and went on to lose in 47.1 overs told the story. If that was not enough, Shreyas Iyer, who top-scored for India, said after the match that it was commendable of them to get past the 300-run mark from where they were. And he is not far off. India's No. 3, 6 and 7 combined to add 153 runs from 130 balls whereas, Shikhar Dhawan and Shubman Gill scored 122 runs cumulatively from 144 balls. Make no mistake, the conditions weren't easy for them. The Indian openers were tested by a high-quality pace attack, with the seamers getting sufficient seam and swing on the new ball. But one of the key factors that affected them was the lack of strike rotation from the opening duo. Dhawan and Gill had a dot-ball percentage of 59.74 and 58.46, respectively.

Brief scores: India: 306/7 in 50 ovs (Shreyas 80; Ferguson 3/59,) lost to NZ 309/3 in 47.1 ovs (Latham 145 n.o).

Major brands stopped advertising on Twitter

Twitter currently depends on advertising for 90% of its revenue. Several major brands have withdrawn from advertising on the platform since Musk bought it, fearing that his promised relaxation of content moderation could open their companies up to being associated with objectionable content.

SAN FRANCISCO: Twitter's billionaire owner Elon Musk announced on Friday that the platform would be launching differently coloured badges to distinguish between accounts.

"Sorry for the delay, we're tentatively launching Verified on Friday next week," he tweeted. "Gold check for companies, grey check for government, blue for individuals (celebrity or not) and all verified accounts will be manually authenticated before check activates."

In another tweet, Musk said that all verified individual accounts would have the same blue check, but some would eventually be able to display a "secondary tiny logo showing they belong to an org(anization) if verified as such by that org(anization)".

The Tesla and SpaceX boss' proposal for users to be able to pay to be "verified" and obtain a blue badge on their profiles has caused confusion since he acquired the social media giant last month.

Musk proposed a subscription fee of $8 a month to allow users to obtain the blue check —which was previously free but reserved for organisations and public figures in an attempt to avoid impersonation and misinformation.

The first rollout of Musk's subscription plan in early November quickly went south, with many accounts paying for the blue check and then impersonating world leaders, celebrities or companies.

Responding to the backlash, Musk initially postponed the launch date to November 29, before delaying it once more. It now appears the feature will launch on December 2. Musk has said that he wants to charge users for subscriptions to the social media platform to diversify its income stream.

This design is intentional, said Jeong Seong-gyun, head of autonomous driving at 42dot.

Brothers on trial in Russia spy case

ESPIONAGE

STOCKHOLM: Two Swedish brothers, one a former intelligence official, went on trial in Stockholm on Friday accused of "aggravated espionage" for allegedly spying for Russia's GRU military intelligence service between 2011 and 2021.

"This case is unique in many ways... We haven't had a trial like this in more than 20 years", prosecutor Mats Ljungqvist told court in his opening statement. He said the information obtained, transmitted and divulged was "extremely sensitive material".

His co-prosecutor Per Lindqvist said it could be "detrimental to Sweden's national security". Defendants Payam and Peyman Kia risk life sentences if found guilty. Most of the trial will be held behind closed doors. Payam Kia is aged 35 and his brother 42, according to the charge sheet. They are of Iranian origin, according to Swedish media reports.

Peyman Kia, who appeared calm in court, has served in Sweden's intelligence service Sapo and intelligence units in the Swedish army.

Greta sues nation over climate policies

CLIMATE

STOCKHOLM: More than 600 young people in Sweden, including climate activist Greta Thunberg, on Friday filed a lawsuit against the Swedish state accusing it of climate inaction, a first in the country.

"There has never been such a large-scale case in the Swedish legal system", Ida Edling, a member of the organisation behind the lawsuit, Aurora, told AFP.

The lawsuit, symbolically submitted to the Stockholm district court during a protest in the city on Friday, had previously been filed electronically to another Stockholm court, Aurora said.

The legal action, which has been in the works for two years, comes as Sweden's new right-wing government faces mounting criticism over lacklustre climate goals.

While the lawsuit is a first in the Swedish courts, six Portuguese youths have taken Sweden and 32 other countries to the European Court of Human Rights accusing them of failing to adequately address the climate crisis.

In recent years, a growing number of organisations and citizens have turned to the courts to criticise what they claim is government inaction on the climate.

UK coin study salvages forgotten Roman emperor from 'obscurity'

A forgotten Roman emperor has been rescued from "obscurity" after UK researchers determined a coin long dismissed as fake was in fact authentic.

EMPEROR SPONSIAN

The coin featuring the profile of an emperor named Sponsian was among a handful of similar coins found in Transylvania in present-day Romania in 1713

They had been considered fakes since the mid-19th century due to their jumbled inscriptions and unusual design

A GENUINE COIN

But researchers who studied one of the coins housed at The Hunterian collection at the University of Glasgow in Scotland have now concluded that the coin is genuine after comparison with others with a similar history

RULING OVER ROMAN DACIA

Our evidence suggests he ruled Roman Dacia, an isolated gold mining outpost, at a time when the empire was beset by civil wars and the borderlands were overrun by plundering invaders.

— lead author Professor Paul Pearson, of University College London

260 AD

HISTORY OF THE PLACE

It is believed it was cut off from the rest of the Roman empire in around 260 AD with Sponsian, possibly a local army officer, forced into assuming supreme command until order was restored

EXAMINING THE COINS

The earth science researchers reexamining the coins used powerful microscopes in visible and ultraviolet light to help reach their new verdict

LOCALLY PRODUCED COINS

They believe Sponsian could have authorised the creation of locally produced coins, some featuring an image of his face, to support the economy in his isolated frontier territory

The new study, took advantage of 26 years' worth of data on grey wolves living in the Yellowstone National Park in the US to investigate how the parasite could affect their behaviour.

Imran denied permission to land at key protest ground

ISLAMABAD

IMRAN Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party on Friday said the Islamabad administration has denied permission to the former prime minister's helicopter to land at the Parade Ground in the garrison city of Rawalpindi on Saturday to address a protest rally against the Shehbaz Sharif government.

Khan is set to address his supporters in Rawalpindi on November 26. He has said his party's protest in Rawalpindi would be 'completely peaceful'.

Taking to Twitter, PTI leader Asad Umar said that the Islamabad administration has denied permission to the party's plea asking to let the party chairman's helicopter land at the Parade Ground on Saturday.

PTI senior vice president Shireen Mazari also hit out at the Islamabad administration for not allowing Khan's helicopter to land at the Parade Ground.

"ICT has denied permission for IK heli to land at Parade Ground although GHQ permission came yesterday—need permission from both! Clearly this is farcical and a case of good cop-bad cop," she tweeted while reacting to the Islamabad Capital Territory (ICT) Administration's decision.

Earlier this week, PTI had submitted a petition to the Islamabad High Court (IHC) seeking permission for Khan's helicopter to be allowed to land and take off from Parade Ground till the "conclusion of the gathering".

The Pakistan Army has said it has 'no objection' to PTI's request to allow the helicopter of its chairman Khan to land at the Parade Ground under its control. PTI

Dozens feared dead as Iranian forces open fire

Heavy machine guns used to quell protests in Sistan-Baluchistan province, activists say

TEHRAN

IRANIAN security forces opened fire on protests after Friday prayers in the restive southeastern province of Sistan-Baluchistan, leaving dozens of people dead or wounded, activists said.

The Islamic republic has intensified a crackdown on protests sparked by the September 16 death in custody of Mahsa Amini, a 22-year-old Iranian woman of Kurdish origin.

Campaigners had called for nationwide demonstrations this week in solidarity with Kurdistan, which along with Sistan-Baluchistan has borne the brunt of Iran's deadly protest crackdown.

"Kurdistan, Kurdistan, we will support you," protesters were heard chanting Friday in a video from the Sistan-Baluchistan capital Zahedan, one of the few Sunni-majority cities in predominantly Shiite Iran."Kurds and Baluchs are brothers, thirsting for the leader's blood," they sang in other unverified footage posted on social media, in reference to Iran's supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei.

Activists said later that the security forces had opened fire on protesters in the city. "Dozens have been killed or injured," the London-based Baloch Activists Campaign (BAC) said on its Telegram channel. AFP was unable to confirm the toll. BAC shared a video showing a group of men carrying a man who appears to be wounded out of what it said was Zahedan's Makki mosque. Demonstrators also took to the streets of the Sistan-Baluchistan cities of Iranshahr, Khash and Saravan, said BAC and the 1500tasvir monitor.

Oslo-based group Iran Human Rights (IHR) said the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps had used military equipment, including heavy machine guns, to suppress the people. The Kurdish-populated provinces of western and northwestern Iran have been hubs of protest since the death of Amini after her arrest in Tehran for an alleged breach of the country's strict dress code for women. AFP

MOTHERS OF SLAIN SOLDIERS DEMAND ANSWERS FROM PUTIN

MOSCOW

THEIR videos are flooding Russian social media — mothers and wives of soldiers mobilised to fight in Ukraine, urgently demanding that the military make good on promises made by President Vladimir Putin.

Anger and concern have built across Russia since September, when the Kremlin announced that hundreds of thousands of well-trained and well-equipped men would be conscripted and sent to the battlefield to bolster Moscow's struggling campaign in Ukraine.

But chaos ensued, with widespread reports of exempted men — the elderly or infirm — being dispatched to the front or conscripts dying after receiving nearly no training, forcing the Kremlin to concede "mistakes".

In a sign that Putin takes the growing malaise seriously, Putin on Friday met a group of military mothers and wives for the first time since ordering Russian forces into Ukraine nine months ago.

Putin told the mothers that he shares the pain of those who have lost their loved ones in the conflict.

"I want you to know: I personally and the entire leadership of the country share this pain," Putin told a group of soldiers' mothers ahead of Mother's Day, which Russia will mark on Sunday.

But some relatives dismissed the meeting as carefully choreographed and one that will not offer a platform for frank discussion.

"The president will meet with some mothers pulled out of his pocket, who will ask the right questions and thank him," said Olga Tsukanova, an activist mother.

"As usual."

Her 20-year-old son is currently doing his military service and she wants to make sure he will not be sent to Ukraine.

Tsukanova travelled 900 kilometres from the city of Samara on the Volga river in the hope of being seen at the Kremlin. "I'm not alone. Invite us, Vladimir Vladimirovich, answer our questions!" she said, referring to the president by his patronymic.

Anger over the fate of mobilised men, which risks degenerating into real discontent, has put the Kremlin in an uncomfortable position, analysts have said. AFP

Europe rushes to send power generators

BRUSSELS

EUROPEAN officials are scrambling to help Ukraine stay warm and keep functioning through the bitter winter months, pledging on Friday to send more support that will mitigate the Russian military's efforts to turn off the heat and lights.

Officials estimate that around 50% of Ukraine's energy facilities have been damaged in the recent strikes.

France is sending 100 high-powered generators to Ukraine to help people get through the coming months, French Foreign Minister Catherine Colonna said on Friday. On Thursday, European officials launched a scheme called 'Generators of Hope,' which calls on 200 cities across the continent to donate power generators and transformers. AFP

US writer files fresh suit against Trump on rape

WASHINGTON

A journalist who alleges that Donald Trump raped her in the mid-1990s filed an upgraded lawsuit under a new law that protects victims of sexual assault decades after attacks may have occurred.

The new filing by lawyers for E. Jean Carroll came minutes after a New York state law took effect that allows victims to sue without regard to statutes of limitation.

Carroll, 78, filed a federal civil defamation suit against Trump in November 2019, and that suit is ongoing. Both Carroll and Trump filed sworn depositions before a New York judge in October.

The upgraded lawsuit by Carroll, an author and former columnist for Elle magazine, accuses Trump of battery, "when he forcibly raped and groped" her, and for defamation in a post on his Truth Social account last month.

In this new suit, Carroll seeks unspecified compensatory and punitive damages for psychological harm, pain and suffering, loss of dignity and damage to her reputation.

Carroll's previous lawsuit is scheduled to head to trial at the beginning of 2023. The presiding judge may decide to include the new claims in the trial.

Carroll first made her claim of sexual assault against Trump in a 2019 book, alleging that Trump raped her in a changing room at Bergdorf Goodman, an upscale department store in New York, in late 1995 or early 1996.

But until New York's new Adult Survivors Act took effect on Thursday, Carroll could not file the battery claim because the alleged incident had occurred too long ago.

Trump has denied raping Carroll, or even knowing her, saying she was "not my type" and asserting that she was "totally lying." Trump's lawyer, Alina Habba, said she respects those who come forward under the new New York state law.

The new law gives sexual assault victims in New York state a one-year window to sue their alleged abusers even when the abuse occurred long ago. AFP

Earthquake toll reaches 310 as more bodies found

INDONESIA: The death toll from an earthquake that struck Indonesia's Java island early this week rose to 310 after rescuers found more bodies under landslides, an official said. At least 24 people remain missing. Bodies were recovered on Friday in two areas of mountainous Cianjur district where landslides triggered by Monday's quake brought tons of mud, rocks and broken trees, said Henri Alfiandi, chief of the National Search and Rescue Agency. The head of the National Disaster Management Agency, Suharyanto said rescuers will continue searching until rebuilding begins. "We will do it up to the last person. There is no reduction whatsoever, in strength, enthusiasm..." Suharyanto said. He said distribution of food and other aid is improving.

Packaged cake recalled over excess sorbic acid

SINGAPORE: The Singapore Food Agency on Friday issued a recall for a packaged cake after it was found to have more than the permitted level of sorbic acid. The recall impacts the Lemon Square Cheese Cake (Original) brand that comes in a pack of 10 and is imported from the Philippines. The batch number is 09 with an expiry date of March 27, 2023. The agency directed the importer Orient Pearl Goods and Services to recall the food product as a precaution. The agency said that sorbic acid is a permitted food additive used for preservation. However, people who have consumed the implicated product and have concerns about their health should not eat it. Sorbic acid in general inhibits the growth of mould in food. This allows for shipping and storing for a longer period of time and is often used in baked and canned goods and cheese

Thai govt nod to extension of post-Covid recovery campaign

The cabinet members of Thailand approved a six-month extension of the government's post-pandemic recovery campaign under the Bio-Circular-Green (BCG) economic model. It has now been pushed to March 31, 2023. Rachada Dhnadirek, Deputy Government Spokesperson informed that no additional funding will be allocated to the campaign.

3-metre-long python bites 5-yr-old Australian boy, drags him into pool

SYDNEY

A five-year-old boy has survived being bitten, constricted and knocked into a swimming pool by a python the length of a small car, with his father telling media, "Aw look, it's where we live. It is Australia."

Five-year-old Beau was playing by the edge of a pool in Byron Bay when a three-metre-long python struck from nearby vegetation, his father Ben Blake told Nine radio on Friday. "I believe the python was sort of sitting there waiting for a victim to come along—a bird or something—and Beau was it." The python bit the child, plunged both into the water and coiled itself around a leg.

The boy's 76-year-old grandfather, Alan Blake, lept to the rescue, diving into the pool and lifting the boy out—with snake still attached. Ben Blake then prised the snake loose and tried to calm the situation. "I'm not a little lad, I had him released within 15-20 seconds," he told the radio station.

The boy, who was said to be "an absolute trooper", is recovering well.

"Once we cleaned up the blood and told him he wasn't going to die because it wasn't a poisonous snake, he's actually pretty good," Blake said.

While pythons are not venomous, the five-year-old is being treated to prevent the bite from becoming infected.

Describing events as "somewhat of an ordeal", Blake added that snakes were a fact of life in and around the sub-tropical Byron Bay—a popular tourist town and surf mecca an eight-hour drive north of Sydney.

"It is Australia. They are about," Blake said, adding that the snake was released and "the naughty thing" went straight back into the vegetation—"the scene of the crime."

According to The Guardian, Beau's mother, Tesse Ferguson, shared details of the 'dramatic evening' on her social media, warning other parents to "keep their eyes peeled".Agencies

With the ongoing winter wedding season, city-based fashion designers and stylists share with CE the return of a popular '80s trend in men's groom wear and some newly-added elements

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW

THE winter wedding season is here and for the men, it has brought with it a whiff of nostalgia. Bringing back trendy elements from the '80s, this season gives the modern man a vintage touch with certain newly-added components.

"It is the wedding season and a lot of people are asking for various stuff. But the common element has been an increasing demand for double-breasted suits. They used to be quite stylish in the early '80s but now they are back in a big way. Also, the trend of people wearing tight-fitted clothes is not there anymore. People are opting for more comfortable fits," says city-based fashion designer Bassam Osman.

Aside from the resurgence of double-breasted suits, Partha Randhir, fashion designer at Pomp And Plush Weddings, feels mirror work has come into men's wear, which used to be an anomaly before. "While double breasted suits are definitely back but more than that, mirror work has surprisingly become a part of men's groom fashion. That's a very new trend and hasn't been done before," shares Randhir.

Adding to Randhir's point, designer Ramesh Dembla feels bling has become a part of men's groom wear as well. "Bling used to be generally associated with women's fashion and men used to think twice before wearing anything shiny like that. But today, men are donning everything bling from the jackets to the chains and necklaces. I think men are now ready to try anything and don't have any gender-specific fashion barriers in front of them. It's a good step everyone is taking," says Dembla.

Regarding the coming back of '80 trends, city-based stylist Vani Agarwal feels this is because of the cyclical nature of fashion. "Owing to the fact that fashion always keeps coming back, current trends are taking inspiration from the '80s and '90s. That precisely explains the return of the three-piece suits. On top of that, detailed work like zari and mirror work is a reflection of royalty and class," concludes Agarwal.

> Bling used to be generally associated with women's fashion and men used to think twice before wearing anything shiny. But today, men are donning everything bling from the jackets to the chains and necklaces. It's a good step for everyone

IISC & MSRUAS to organise 12th ASIP Conference on Start-ups, Entrepreneurship & Regional Innovations

To discuss critical issues relating to start-ups in the context of Covid-19 Pandemic and the post Covid-19 era, The Department of Management Studies, Indian Institute of Science (IISc), Bangalore and M S Ramaiah University of Applied Science, (MSRUAS), Bangalore are jointly organising the Annual Conference of Asian Society of Innovation and Policy (ASIP), Korea. The aim is to bring together all stakeholders across, industry, government and academia to discuss and deliberate on a gamut of issues related to Start-Ups, Entrepreneurship and Regional Innovation.

Dr. C N Ashwath Narayan Minister of Higher Education, Minister of Electronics, Information Technology (IT), Biotechnology (BT), Science and Technology (S&T) and Minister for Skill Development, Entrepreneurship and Livelihood, Government of Karnataka, will be the chief guest for the inaugural function to be held today at J N Tata Auditorium, IISC between 9.30 am to 11 am.

Dr. C N Ashwath Narayan mentioned that ASIP, Korea has chosen Bangalore, the start-up capital of India as their venue for their 12th Annual ASIP Conference on "Start-ups, Entrepreneurship & Regional Innovation in the post Covid-19 Era".

The Minister also highlighted that Karnataka is one of the first few states in India to bring out an exclusive Policy for Start-up promotion. "The State brought out our start-up policy in 2015. Since then, we have been laying more and more emphasis on start-up promotion by steadily strengthening the ecosystem for start-ups across the state. According to the "States' Start-up Ranking 2021", Karnataka is one of the three best performers in India," he stated.

Atul Batra, CTO, Algonomy, Bangalore as well as Dr. Jeasoo Kim, President, KISTI, Korea will deliver the Keynote Address. Padma Shree Dr. Prahlada Ramarao, distinguished scientist and member – Court-IISc, will preside over the function. Dr. K K Raina, Vice Chancellor, M S Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences will be the Guest of Honor. Dr. Youngjoo Ko, President, ASIP, Korea will be present. Prof. M H Bala Subrahmanya, Conference Chairman will welcome the gathering. Dr. K. Ganesaraman, VP (24/7.AI), Adjunct Professor, FMC, MSRUAS will propose a Vote of Thanks.

Four parallel Plenary Sessions will follow the inaugural – Technology & Innovation, Entrepreneurship & Innovation, Innovation and Incubation, and Atmanirbhar Bharat: Indian Innovations. Each Plenary Session will have four speakers.

In the afternoon, there will be four parallel sponsored sessions by Karnataka Higher Education Council, Government of Karnataka; CISCO; Innomantra; and The Hungry Lab, Silicon Valley, USA. About 20 Experts will deliver talks to the delegates during the sessions, which will be followed by panel discussions.

This will be followed by shortlisted research paper presentations in four parallel tracks in the J N Tata Auditorium, IISc followed by three sequential four parallel track research paper presentations in the Faculty of Commerce & Management, MSRUAS.

There will be a Valedictory Session, on November 26 at 03:30 PM with Prof Rishikesha T Krishnan, Director, IIM Bangalore as the chief guest; he will also distribute the "Best Paper Awards". The conference will involve a total of 64 Paper presentations. About 250 delegates are expected to participate.

QUICK FIX

STUFFED BANANA

Contributed by Swapna George, Kottayam

INGREDIENTS

- Banana: 3
- Rice flour: 2 tbsp
- Grated coconut: 1 cup
- Ghee: 1 tbsp
- Sugar: 4 tbsp
- Cashew nuts: 1 tbsp
- Cardamom powder: 1/2 tsp
- Raisins: 1 tbsp
- Oil for frying

METHOD

- After cooking the banana, remove the seeds and mash it. Add rice powder to it and knead it well.
- Heat a pan in the oven, add ghee, chopped nuts and raisins to it, then add coconut, cardamom powder and sugar and mix well.
- Make small balls of the prepared dough and flatten it slightly. Take one teaspoon each mix and blend it inside the dough.
- Fry it in hot oil and serve.

FIT BIT

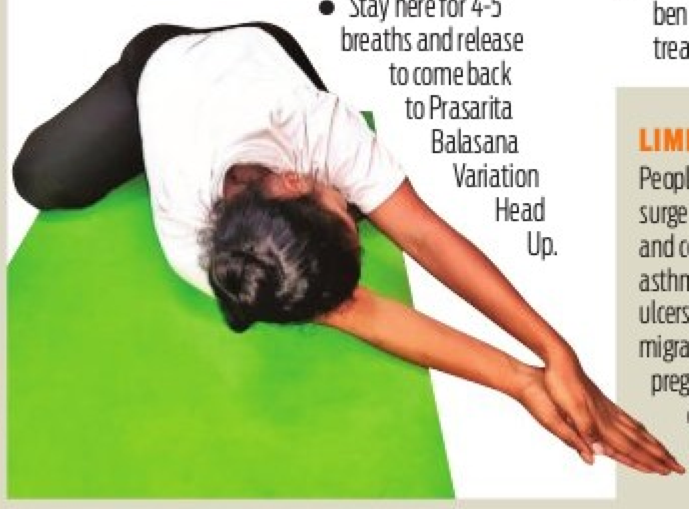
PARIVRTTA PRASARITA BALASANA DWI HASTA

(REVOLVED WIDE CHILD POSE BOTH HANDS)

It is an intermediate level prone pose and is a variation of Prasarita Balasana (Wide Child Pose). This pose gently opens the shoulders in a restorative position. It is a preparatory to Parivrtta Prasarita Balasana (Revolved Wide Child Pose).

STEPS

- Align in Prasarita Balasana Variation Head Up.
- Stay in this pose for 4-5 breaths to get comfortable with the knees and the lower body alignment.
- Inhaling, release the arms, extend them towards the left side, and look towards the left. Exhale.
- The right arm is extended fully and on the floor with the palm looking at the ceiling.
- The left palm is aligned with the right palm, and both arms are extended.
- Stay here for 4-5 breaths and release to come back to Prasarita Balasana Variation Head Up.
- Now, inhaling, release the arms and extend them towards the right side and look towards the right. Exhale. Make sure your head is rested on the mat.
- The left arm is extended fully and on the floor with the palm facing the ceiling.
- The right palm is aligned with the left palm, and both arms are fully extended.
- Stay here for 4-5 breaths and release to come back to Prasarita Balasana Variation Head Up.



BENEFITS

- Stretches the muscles of the arms from the shoulders to the palms.
- Eases muscular stiffness and enhances agility, flexibility and range of motion.
- Has a dual effect on the chest and the lungs.
- The breath remains normal with the back of the lungs and the thoracic cavity expanded.
- The movements are gentle and it has to be done with precision and breath awareness.
- Gradually the flexibility enhances with practise.
- It is a good practice to alleviate shoulder and neck pain.
- Apart from the therapeutic benefits, this pose is a good treatment for frozen shoulders.

LIMITATIONS

People who have undergone recent surgeries, lack breath awareness and coordination, with acute asthma, abdominal pressure, peptic ulcers, hernia, cervical spondylosis, migraine, high BP or epilepsy, pregnant women and senior citizens, rheumatoid-arthritis patients, avoid this pose.

WHY ORANGE IS THE NEW GREEN

MIXOLOGY

Jones Elish

The writer is beverage head south - SOCIAL

FRESH orange juice is a must-have of every bar around the world. Just a splash is all it takes to spruce up a drink and make it a delicious cocktail. It's the make-or-break ingredient for classics like the screwdriver, the bruncher's favourite mimosa or if you're feeling adventurous, a tequila sunrise!

Most barkeeps would agree that the orange juice should be fresh in order to get that extra burst of flavour. However, it's only when you make the juice yourself, do you realise the sheer quantity of this precious fruit that could be considered 'waste'. Of course, a few of the peels can be used as garnish but we were determined to find a way to use it all!

So, we started using the leftover mixture to make fresh marmalade. The best part is that this jam is as versatile as the juice itself. It can be used to give a bittersweet twist to cocktails or on your morning toast, for a breakfast of champions.

MARMALADE

Ingredients

Fresh orange pulp - 100 gm

Discarded orange peel - 200gm

Jaggery - 100 gm

Water - 500ml

Method

Let the mixture slowly boil on low heat till it reduces to from a jam.

THE LANTERN

Ingredients:

Whiskey - 60ml

Lime juice - 10ml

Homemade orange marmalade - 5 to 8gm

Ice cubes

Method:

Pour all ingredients one-by-one in a cocktail shaker

Shake with lots of ice cubes

Pour it into an old-fashioned glass

Garnish it with orange peel or dehydrated orange

OG Fizz

Ingredients:

- Gin - 60ml
- Homemade orange marmalade - 10gm
- Ginger ale

Method:

Build gin and marmalade in a highball glass

Give it a stir

Top it up with ginger ale

Use dehydrated orange as garnish

GANESH SHINES IN THIS TASTEFUL COMEDY

A SHARADHAA

THE promos of Tribble Riding teased a film that revolves around a protagonist romancing three heroines! But is this act of three-timing, or is did he meet them at various periods and on a journey to find his true love? In a nutshell, this film can be considered a bittersweet comedy that falls more to the latter side.

Romance has always been Golden Star Ganesh's forte; most of his films showcase a hero struggling to find love, a pattern that also continues in Tribble Riding, but with a twist. The hero falls in love and 'suffers' not with one, but with three girls.

Ram (Ganesh), the son of a lawyer (Achyuth Kumar) is on the run, chased by an MLA (Sharath Lohitashwa) , a realtor (Shobaraj), and a police officer (Ravi Shankar). While the first two are chasing him on the pretext that their respective daughters Ramya (Aditi Prabhudeva) and Rakshita (Megha Shetty) eloped with him, the Police officer has a different agenda. Going by his father's advice, Ram goes into hiding in Chikmagalur, where he is temporarily camped in a tea estate owned by Suryanarayana (Rangayana Raghu). Will Ram prove his innocence, and get a clean chit? Having developed a certain hatred towards girls, can true love change his perception? Or will he fall prey? Answers the film which discusses how men and women process love and how at times they use it for their personal gain, interlacing everything with humour.

Ganesh, an all-round entertainer knows how to make people emotional in one scene and laugh in the other. He earnestly pulls off this role with warmth and delivers the emotions of a youngster who is on his soul-searching phase with elegance. Equally good actors join him in comedy like Sadhu Kokila, Rangayana Raghu, Kuri Pratap, and Ravi Shankar Gowda. The love portion and comedy compete with each other in a sense to gain prominence. But the comical parts involving Ganesh, Sadhu Kokila, and Rangayana Raghu win in the end. But I wish these sequences had a rudder and were limited at certain parts without undoing the seriousness of the other portions.

Achyuth Kumar appears in a role that has limited screen space, it is Shobharaj and Sharath Lohitashwa who make the most in the elaborate space given to them. Ravi Shankar, who comes across as a bad guy from the beginning steals the show with the twist that comes at the end.

Mahesh Gowda, who has managed these comical scenes well, needs to pay more attention to other parts of the film like the stunts which feel rushed and uninspiring.

The song Yatta Yatta composed by Sai Karthik is a delight for the fans of Ganesh's dance. The first half of the film is comparatively slow and goes ahead with a generic narrative, the screenplay picks up momentum at the interval point, and it is in the second half where all the twists come in.

Aditi Prabhudeva, Megha Shetty, and Rachana Inder have equal screen space. Watch out for the suspense cameo played by a couple of actors in the theatres.

Overall, Tribble Riding is a tasteful comedy entertainer and an equally good romance. Interestingly this fun film has an underline message too.

Raymo: A well-made, emotional musical entertainer

PAVAN Wadeyar's Raymo is a well-brewed combination of love, fame, and pain blended into a musical drama, and comes with its own twists. The lead characters being stark opposites of each other adds more flavour to the story.

The film begins with Revanth (Ishan), the son of a millionaire (Sharathkumar) is a rock star, who is famously known by his stage name 'Raymo', and he calls himself a 'Self-made star'. He is arrogant, hates his father for everything, is a drunkard, and has a massive female fan following. He accidentally comes across Mohana (Ashika Ranganath), who is in contrast to him and is a singer from a traditional family. The common point for both of them is music. Though Mohana initially hesitates to join Raymo's band, she later agrees, only to help her father. The two can't stand each other initially, but things change when Mohana accompanies Raymo to shows abroad. They develop a liking for each other and eventually fall in love. Shockingly their romance is cut short, and they develop hatred toward each other.

Is it the sacrificing nature of both Raymo and Mohana that distances them apart? Will the romance end up in distress or success? Raymo answers with a message that says love cannot be conquered without struggles and heartaches.

Emotions drive the screenplay forward in Raymo. Apart from being a romantic drama Pavan also showcases the rise and fall of stars which are uncertain like a game of snakes and ladders.

Raymo, coming from Pavan Wadeyar, the man behind Googly, Natasaarvabhowma, makes yet another spot on youthful romantic entertainer. The director has not gone with the usual love story, and there are certain episodes, which strongly highlight the importance of familial relationships. The runtime and melodramatic tone especially in the second half are probably the only issues in the film.

Music plays an important role in this musical romance and is placed well in crucial situations. The songs highlight show the ups and downs the of life of a singer. The emotions are elevated greatly thanks to the soothing background score by Arjun Janya.

Raymo has a rich production value with expensive sets, foreign locations, and lavish action sequences, which are captured aesthetically by cinematographer Vaidy. The grandeur doesn't stick out and it blends well with the story.

This musical love drama gives equal importance to both Ishan and Ashika Ranganath. Both the actors go through a transformation in this film, Ishan's character begins as a flamboyant rich brat but becomes a subtle, restrained main in the latter half. Ashika, who is initially silent and soft-spoken becomes aggressive towards the end.

Director Pavan has managed to draw an impressive performance from the one-film-old actor Ishan, who shows great promise. Ashika Ranganath also shines in her role as a singer. It is quite a sight to see the pair on screen.

Although Sarathkumar appears in a few scenes, he delivers a heavy-weight performance, and so does actor Madhoo. Rajesh Nataranga and Achyuth Kumar also impress in their limited screen space.

Raymo, the love story with a twist, its heart in the right place.
